

Merchants Asked To Close During Football Games

Co-operation of Heppner business houses to make high school football games more successful financially is being sought by the school. Merchants are being asked to close their doors during the game period, which usually runs from 2 to 4 o'clock, to permit employees to attend the games and encourage customers to do the same thing.

Jack Parrish and Tom Hughes, members of the Mustang squad, appeared before the chamber of commerce luncheon group Monday and asked assistance in presenting the school's request to the business houses. The proposal was left in the hands of the merchants' committee. The first game to be played on the home grid is set for 2 p. m. Friday, Oct. 5.

Guests at Monday's luncheon were members of the x-ray unit, Clarence Bradford and Keith Grosenbacher, technicians, and officials of the Morrow County Public Health association, Mrs. Claude Graham, president and Mrs. Oscar Rippee, secretary.

MORE SOLDIERS HOME

It is not the intention of this newspaper to overlook mention of returning soldiers but occasionally some of them have been home some time before the news staff learns of it. Another returned soldier from the European theater is Sgt. Raymond Johnson, brother of Mrs. Paul Jones, who arrived at Pendleton Wednesday of last week. Lt. Jask Forsythe has finally received his discharge from the Army Air Corps and returned from Portland the first of the week.

Mrs. Joe Hughes left Monday for Sacramento, Calif. to attend a reunion of the Bassett family. She had intended to travel by bus to Klamath Falls and take a Southern Pacific train from there but central Oregon bus service was affected by the strike of bus drivers and she went from The Dalles by train.

Hubert Gaily SK3c is due home Saturday evening from his station in San Francisco on a 15 day leave with his wife. Mrs. Gaily was expressing doubt to this reporter this morning as to his being able to make it home as planned because of the bus strike now on, but we're putting our money on the Navy.
