VISITING PETERSONS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spittle of Astoria are making a short visit at the Ture Peterson home. They flew from Portland to Pendleton where Mr. Peterson met them Tuesday evening.

KINZUA PINE MILLS COMPANY MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING INDUSTRY WIDE LUMBER STRIKE IN NORTHWEST

On June 1, 1945, the Kinzua Pine Mills company entered into a working agreement with their local Lumber & Sawmill Workers Unions which unions represent the company employees at its operations, for a period of one year. At the same time, the Alexander Yawkey Lumber company, Stoddard Lumber company, Craig Mt. Lumber company, Oregon Lumber company, Mt. Emily Lumber company, Collins Pine company and Edward Hines Lumber company hereinafter referred to as the Operators, obtained separate and individual contracts with their local Lumber and Sawmill Workers unions, all possessed with the same or identical terms and provisions.

All the above named Operators have, since 1941, negotiated with their local unions through the Northwest Council, A. F. of L., representative at Portland, Oregon as all employees of above Operators are fully aware, as they designated the Northwest Council as their bargaining agent.

As of August 27, 1945, Kinzua Pine Mills Company, together with the other Operators, received a demand from the Union representatives that they meet with Union representatives for the purpose of discussing and negotiating the Union demand for a wage increase.

In compliance with the terms of this demand, the Operators agreed to meet with the Union officials for negotiation conferences in Portland as of Saturday, Sept. 15, 1945. In the furtherance of this plan, Operator representatives met in Portland as of Sept. 14, anticipating the commencement of full negotiation conferences on the following day.

However, the Union, for reasons at that time unknown to Operator representatives, cancelled the negotiation conferences set for Sept. 15, as of 4:00 P. M. Friday, Sept. 14, 1945. NO ATTEMPT HAS EVER BEEN MADE BY THE UNION TO RESUME THESE NEGOTIATION CONFERENCES. The Operators were unable to obtain from the Union representatives any agreement to resume negotiation conferences despite numerous requests by the Operators that the negotiations cancelled by the Union as of Sept. 14, 1945 be resumed in the immediate future.

On Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1945 representatives of the Operators attended hearings called by a special lumber commission appointed by the Secretary of Labor in an attempt to avert a threatened strike in the lumber industry. The Operators were informed at these hearings, for the first time, that the Lumber & Sawmill Workers Union, A. F. of L. were demanding that all Operators in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and California enter into industry wide negotiations covering the five mentioned states.

In other words, whether they be in the fir lumber business, pine lumber business, the plywood industry or whether they operate box factories, stock and detail plants or whether they manufacture package veneer, doors, matches or wooden barrels, they must enter into industry wide negotiations as one bargaining group.

All this, despite the fact that such a demand had never before been made on the above named companies in the central and eastern Oregon area and despite the further fact that such a demand violates the well established and satisfactory negotiating practice between the parties.

The officials of Kinzua Pine Mills other central and eastern Oregon Company and the officials of the Operators view the Union position as amounting to the following:

"That as the requirement before any negotiation on the wage demand submitted to the central and eastern Oregon Operators, such Operators must agree to negotiate on an industry wide basis with all other Operators who produce, handle or process lumber in any form, stage or condition. In the event that this requirement was not met the Unions would not negotiate with the Operators on the Union's wage demands, which prior to Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1945, were the only issue in controversy. Rather, instead of carrying out negotiation conferences on their wage demands in accordance with the practice of the last 5 years, the Union would indulge in affirmative strike action."

From Aug. 27, 1945, the date of the Union demand for negotiation conference, which conference was agreed to in good faith by the Operators to the present time, no negotiation conferences have been held between the central and eastern Oregon operators and their Union representatives.

Despite this complete lack of good faith collective bargaining on the part of the Union, the Union has seen fit to indulge in strike action.

In so indulging in strike action, the Union is using as a basis therefore the inability or refusal of the Operators to agree to the Union's demand that all past negotiation practices be disregarded and that all Operators who produce or work with wood in any state or condition in the five mentioned western states, whether such Operators be loggers, lumber manufacturers, door, match, plywood, box, barrels, or specialty producers, negotiate on an industry wide basis as one bargaining group.

The Union, in an attempt to force this new, novel and unfounded procedure on the Operators, hopes to eliminate all existing differences between the basic wages received by any and all employees in any segment or section of the five western states who produce, handle or process any lumber products.

THEREBY, THE BASIC WAGE OF A LOGGER IN THE CENTRAL & EASTERN OREGON PINE AREA AND THE BASIC WAGE RECEIVED BY MINOR GIRLS ENGAGED IN HANDLING THE VERY SMALL AND LIGHT PACK-AGE VENEER GOING INTO THE MAKING OF STRAWBERRY BOXES ON THE WEST COAST OF WASHINGTON AND OREGON WOULD BE THE SAME.

The entire position of Lumber & Sawmill Workers Union is clearly stated by its own officials who recently reported in the Union Register, the Union's official newspaper, as follows: "Two important actions taken in last week's Northwest Council Executive committee meeting in Seattle were: (1) That all "offers" from individual Operators or groups of Operators for settlement with the local Union or District Council must be immediately referred to the Northwest Council's Strike Policy committee; and no local Union or District Council is to make a "settlement" on its own without specific permission from this committee. (2) That no Lumber & Sawmill Workers Union official shall make a statement to the public press on the current strike situation without specific permission from the Northwest Council's Policy Committee."

PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THAT THE STRIKE ACTION NOW BEING INDULGED IN HAS NOT BEEN TAKEN BECAUSE OF THE OPERATOR'S DENIAL OF THE UNION'S DEMAND FOR WAGE INCREASES. THIS HAS NEVER BEEN DISCUSSED.
