

P-TA Group Enjoys Unusual Program

A crowd that taxed the capacity of the music room at the school house was treated to one of the best P-TA programs given since the group organized.

National Education week was emphasized by a book display from the city library and by room displays featuring health.

Grade three had a clever poster and two little stories. Little booklets, "Johnny's Toothache", written and dramatized by the children was the fourth grade contribution.

Grades five, six and seven had an art display pertaining to health, while the eighth grade had made notebook covers of their own design which contained lessons in health.

As November program leader, Mrs. James Thomson Jr. had arranged an excellent program. After the singing of God Bless America by the audience, Mrs. O. G. Crawford presented the Women's Choral club. These women attired in their black formal skirts and white blouses made a pleasing picture as they sang two delightful numbers, "Morning" by Speaks and "Overtones" by Rasbach. Mrs. J. O. Turner was accompanist.

President Becket presided at the business meeting at which time discussion of high school dances, the giving of one-act plays and a proposal by Mrs. Lucy Rodgers for a county or regional library, was held.

Mrs. James Valentine, program chairman introduced Miss Margaret Gillis, Morrow county public health nurse who in turn introduced Dr. F. G. Scherer. Dr. Scherer spoke on "Social Hygiene in the Family", following the same line of thought expressed in his address to the health association Tuesday night.

The December meeting will be on the 10th. Subject, "Better Schools," with Mrs. Ture Peterson as leader.

ENJOYS CALLERS

Many friends call at the F. W. Turner residence and almost daily one of Mrs. Turner's former pupils will drop in to see her for a few minutes. Last Monday Mrs. Cynthia Cochran, Mrs. Bramer Reese and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Holman

Health Education to Be Stressed Here

Morrow County Public Health association held a meeting Tuesday evening at the city hall. Guest speaker was Fr. F. G. Sherer, director of the Portland division of social hygiene education.

Dr. Sherer said in part "Social hygiene education has as its central aim the preservation and strengthening of the family. This includes instruction regarding physical development, the venereal diseases, preparation for marriage and family life."

The association decided to buy from Yakima visited the Turners. Mrs. Cochran is an aunt and the other ladies are cousins of Mrs. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gentry from Pendleton called on Keith's former teacher Saturday. He was recently released from three years of war duty in the Pacific.

Clayton Davis, Roger Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peck, also Claude Way called. Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Sherman also looked in on Mrs. Turner a short time ago. Mr. Sherman is released from the U. S. S. Wisconsin but will not be home to stay for a few months.

the following books to place on a shelf in the Heppner public library: "New Patterns in Sex Training"; "Your Child"; "Growing Up"; "Sex Adjustment of Young Men"; "The Wonder of Life"; "Being Born"; "Plain Words About Venereal Diseases" and "A Marriage Manual. All these books will be taken out by adults only.

Miss Gillis gave a short talk on the findings of the x-ray unit.

Mrs. Oscar Rippee gave a report on the third annual institute of the presidents and executive secretaries of the public health association of Oregon.

Lt. and Mrs. Gordon Bucknum are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bucknum this week. They arrived Tuesday from Alameda, Calif. where Lt. Bucknum is stationed at the Navy Air base and will remain until after Thanksgiving when they will go to Seattle, where the lieutenant will be given his discharge.

Mrs. Richard Hayes is a patient at St. Anthony's hospital where she will undergo penicillin treatment for the next four days. Mrs. Hayes entered the hospital Wednesday.
