Peacetime Demands Should Be Met

If any of us thought we could sit back and take a long breathing spell when hostilities ceased we were indulging in the popular pastime of kidding ourselves. The war is over but the need for money or for the things it will buy is still great and we will be called upon for many dollars that we might otherwise use for more or less selfish purposes.

The Victory loan drive has ended and there are to be no more intensive campaigns (at least that's what we are told). Nevertheless the government is keeping the books open for bond purchasers who want to invest in government securities.

Currently there are two drives to claim attention of the public, one for money, the other for clothing. Both are worthy of support, both are humanitarian. The March of Dimes is one direct means of raising funds to carry on the fight against infantile paralysis. No more worthy cause challenges us, for the dreaded polio is one of man's bitterest enemies. The clothing drive is a result of war, a war that robbed the people of Europe of the means of feeding and clothing themselves. American wardrobes are anything but normal, yet we are living in luxury compared to most Europeans. So once more we are called upon to dig into our reserves, if such we have, and send a bundle of clothing to the collection center.

The calls for peacetime assistance will not be as demanding as in time of war, yet we should be guided by a spirit of patriotism as great as any exhibited in troublous times. If it is patriotism to do and give in time of war that our way of life may be preserved it is equally patriotic to give in peacetime that want and hunger may be averted.

It is the privilege of each and every one of us to participate in these humanitarian activities and none should overlook the opportunity to do his or her share.

Former Residents Observe Golden Wedding Event

About 30 friends and relatives gathered at the Arcadian hall at The Dalles Christmas day for a banquet dinner and party given for Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Wright in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The guests were seated at a large U-shaped table which was decorated with the traditional gold and white. The two tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Mabel Gale, daughter of the honored couple after first being cut by the bride and groom.

The bride was gowned in a dress of rose crepe with a velvet yoke which was made by her granddaughter, Mrs. Lulu Cole.

Among the many gifts presented to the couple was a Chinese hand carved bronze and teakwood bowl which was presented to the bride by her 87-year old mother, Mrs. Riley Munkers. The bowl is an heirloom which has been handed down from mother to daughter for several generations. It had been presented to Mrs. Munkers on her golden wedding day also.

Entertainment for the occasion included several songs by Pat Gale of Portland seven-year-old granddaughter of the bride and groom. Also a duet by Riley and Donald Munkers, nephews of the couple. Dancing and card games were enjoyed throughout the rest of the afternoon and evening.

The guest list included the bride and groom and their four children, Lloyd, Russell and wife Jessie, Mrs. W. F. Matlock and husband, Mrs. G. L. Gale and husband, of Portland; eight grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ignowski, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cole, Betty and Carol Matlock, Patsy and Vern Gale of Portland; Mrs. Riley Munkers, and her sister Mrs. Lena Caspell of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Barkaloo; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wooda, Vernonia; Harry and Donald Munkers of Ione; Mr. and Mrs. Riley Munkers, Arlington; Fred Wood-sides, Helen Bobiseed and Ann Mathews.

Officials Invited to League Convention

Mayor J. O. Turner and the other city officials of Heppner have been invited to bring the city's re-conversion problems to the joint convention of the League of Oregon Cities and the Oregon Finance Officers association to be held in Portland Jan. 21, 22 and 23, at the Multnomah hotel. The convention is planned as a "clinic" where outstanding national authorities as well as federal, state and local officials will be on hand to offer information and suggestions on federal surplus property disposal, return of airports to civilian management, planning problems, building codes, Oregon finance problems and other matters of particular interest to Oregon cities.

Prominent guests will be Governor Earl Snell, who will speak at the opening luncheon on Monday; Dr. Harry K. Newburn University of Oregon president, who will deliver the league banquet address on Tuesday evening; Carl H. Chatters, executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association of the United States and Canada, scheduled to speak at the finance officers' banquet Monday evening; Earl D. Mallery, executive director of the American Municipal association, speaker at the Tuesday luncheon; Mayor Harley Knox of San Diego, president of the League of California cities, speaker at the Wednesday luncheon; and Charles B. Bennett, director of the Los Angeles City Planning department who will speak at the planning and zoning meeting on Monday

Steen Elected to Board of Directors Of National Bureau

W. Lowell Steen of Milton, president of the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation was elected to the national board of directors of the American Farm Bureau federation at its annual convention in Chicago last week. Other directors from the western region are George Wilson of California Farm Bureau, Bert King of the Wyoming Farm Bureau and George Ogilvie of the Nevada Farm Bureau.

Steen, prominent wheat and pea rancher and business man of eastern Oregon, is the youngest man ever to be elected to the national board. It is the first time an Oregon man has been on the national board of directors. This board meets four times a year regularly and oftener when there is pressing business to attend to. The next directors' meeting will be in Washington D. C. this month.

Steen has been active in Farm Bureau work in Oregon for a number of years. He was formerly president of the Umatilla county farm bureau, vice president of the Oregon farm bureau for three years, acting president from the time of Mac Hoke's death in June 1945 and elected president for the coming year at the annual state convention at Hood River this fall. He is also a member of the national fruit and vegetable committee.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy in the death of our mother.
Armin Wihlon, Alton Pettyjohn, Alvin Pettyjohn, Ray Pettyjohn.

Miss Patty O'Harra returned to her work at The Dalles hospital Monday after a few days at home with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Newt O'Harra. Miss O'Harra had a tussie with pneumonia following a siege of flu and came home for a few days of recuperation.

Mrs. Percy Hughes of Milton is attending to business affairs and calling on friends this week-end. She is visiting her sons on Butter creek.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Goheen were guests at the George Gertson home for Christmas. They report quite a time on their return trip to Portland, leaving Heppner in the rain which soon turned to ice and then encountering fog from Hood River. The fog finally caused them to draw off to one side of the road and wait until someone with fog lights came along and they followed along behind. Mrs. Goheen will be remembered as Mary Beamer, daughter of Mrs. Gertson.
