Post Office Stick-up Brings Warning From Postmaster General

Arrest of two bandits Feb. 7 at San Antonio, Tex. has caused Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan to issue a word of warning to the public relative to post office robberies. The bandits, J. C. Vyse and Edward Townsend, both 25 years of age, were arrested following a hold-up of the Trinity Loan company and four men at that place, when they obtained $2,200. A check-up on their identity found them to be the pair that held up the post office at Tyre Mich., Dec. 8, 1945. While being held in the county jail at Sandusky, Mich., they escaped Dec. 26, abducted the postmaster and a woman clerk at Sandusky and stole the postmaster's automobile. The abducted people were released the same evening at Pontiac Mich.

While the bandits covered a wide range of businesses in their robberies, their great regret is that they happened into the Tyre postoffice not knowing it was such. Postal authorities do not deal gently with post office robbers and the young bandits know they will be in confinement a long, long time.

Mr. Hannegan feels the public should be alerted on the possibilities of banditry in all sections of the country and is seeking the support of news sources everywhere that the people may be on guard against outbreaks of this nature.
