For An Annual Observance

Revival of the annual Memorial Day service by the ex-service men's organizations is commendable and although started a little late this year it is a good start and should be a part of each year's program.

Decoration Day was set apart as a day to honor the departed, not alone those who gave their all in defense of their country, but for those who contributed to the welfare of humanity while passing this way. It is the privilege of the living to pause for a time and reflect over the memory of those who have departed, to take a few hours to tidy up their eternal homes, and spend another hour in offering thanks to Him by whose grace we are permitted to enjoy the fruits of their labors.
