Vacation Period About Over?

There has been a feeling among employers that a lot of idleness since cessation of hostilities, whether prompted by strikes or not, has been due to the fact that masses of laborers working almost without vacations during the war period and accumulating considerable money and bonds, craved a good long rest. Not a few were forced into idleness by suspension of wartime industries and a certain percentage of this class may remain out of productive labor due to marital status and other reasons. On the other hand, there are many who will refrain from working as long as their savings hold out and nothing short of losing their money and experiencing some of the pangs of hunger will force them to return to jobs for which they are fitted.

That the time is approaching when men must go back to work is seen in a report that $2,500,000,000 in series E bonds have been redeemed, not to buy equipment but for day to day necessities, according to the Spokane Spokesman-Review. This statement led the East Oregonian to remark that if this is the case the time is coming when people will have to go to work.

It may mean that workmen will assume a different attitude towards their jobs—some workmen, that is. Stifling of industry can go only so far without hurting the worker. Usually he is the first to suffer. There is a possibility that he will see the advantage of making the hours of his day's employment productive, develop every angle of efficiency, that he may preserve not only his own future but that of his children or his successors. He will not loaf during his regular hours in order to make overtime necessary, but by application and honesty of purpose will command a better wage. There are employers who appreciate that type of employe and show their appreciation by advancing their workers when and as conditions warrant. Unfortunately, there are other employers who appreciate nothing that is done for them, but we trust that class is in the minority.

It may require a few more months to reduce the reserves to a point where people feel they must go to work and until that time there will be shortages of a lot of items essential to the common welfare and comfort. Only a desire for cooperation between labor and management will bring about a return to normal conditions and this will not happen while both sides are amply equipped financially to weather the storm.

Readers Like Larger Pages

Judging from comments heard since the issue of June 6, Gazette Times readers are well pleased with the change from the tabloid size to a standard eight-column paper. There are some who regretted the change because they found the smaller sheet easier to hold up while reading. However, these are in the minority and we feel that the change was in the best interests of all concerned.

Due to the help situation and the uncertainty of newsprint supply it will be necessary to confine the paper to four pages most of the time. But as explained last week, our readers will be getting more reading matter on four pages than they got on eight of the smaller pages.

It is the desire of the publishers to give the readers a bigger and better newspaper, and this will be done when conditions are more favorable. Delay in this matter is not due to lack of support but rather our inability to overcome the shortages heretofore referred to.

Heppner seems to have lost its grip on the cellar position in the Wheat-Timber league. If the boys repeat at Condon Sunday they may stand a chance of winding up the season on one of the upper rungs of the ladder.

Those Fossil players and fans take their baseball seriously. That's why they have stayed on top all season. Just for the sake of good sportsmanship it is a good thing to suffer a defeat now and then. An undefeated team has nothing to fight for and it adds zest to the game itself to have a surprise sprung occasionally.

HELEN HEALY BECOMES BRIDE OF HARRY O'DONNELL AT SUNDAY WEDDING

St. Patrick's Catholic church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Sunday morning when Miss Helen Patricia Healy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Healy, became the bride of Mr. Harry Thomas O'Donnell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. O'Donnell with Rev. Francis Mc-Cormack officiating at the nuptial mass, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her white satin wedding gown en train, and three-quarter length lace veil held in position by a plaited halo of white crepe. She carried cream rosebuds.

Attendants of the bride were her three sisters, Miss Marie Healy as maid of honor wore a gown of blue net. Cecelia and Rosetta in pink net were bridesmaids. All three wore three-stranded necklaces of pearls. The wedding party approached the altar to the strains of Eibelbert Nevin's Venetian Love song. Here they met the groom and his brother, Russell O'Donnell who served as best man. Red roses and white peonies were used in the chancel.

Mrs. R. C. Lawrence played the wedding music and Miss Rita Jean Kennedy of Pendleton was soloist. Patricia Kenney and Ann and Patricia Lawrence sang the hymns. Tom and Jack Healy, brothers of the bride were ushers. A reception was held in the parish house in the basement of the church for friends and relatives. The young couple left for California for a honeymoon and expect to be away for two weeks. Upon their return they will be at home in the Frank Alfred house on Kay street. Mrs. O'Donnell has been employed as secretary in the law office of P. W. Mahoney and the bridegroom finished his duty in the navy a few weeks ago. Lt. Com. Ted Thomson and his mother, Mrs. Anna Q. Thomson, returned Sunday morning from a trip to Spokane and Pullman, where they spent several days with Mrs. Thomson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett. Ted has a 72-day leave and is going to Washington, D. C. the last of June. He may get a discharge in September.
