You'll dial calls all the way across the country

Some day, you will be able to complete a call to New York—or anywhere else in the country—almost as swiftly as a local call. For you will dial the number you want, and your call will be automatically routed across the country. Preliminary work on a nation-wide dialing system is already under way.

Uncannily accurate, switching equipment like this will do the job. Each section of the country will have a special three-digit code which you will simply dial before you dial the number you want. Between some neighboring cities here on the Coast long distance dialing will be a fact within the next few years.

This is only one of many long distance and local telephone projects included in our five-year four hundred million dollar expansion program. For it is our purpose to expand and improve service in every way we can... to make the telephone more useful and valuable to everyone.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

Hats Off to this Fellow... HE fed us, our soldiers, our allies, and a lot of other people while we won a war. Now he's asked to keep the world from starving. He's the American farmer. He deserves the thanks and appreciation of everybody. He deserves it more than most folks realize because he increased his production by 30 per cent in five years without enough new tools to replace the labor he lost. But, American farmers are disappointed—and they have a right to be. They expected that the end of the war would bring them an opportunity to replace their patched, repaired, weary and over-worked farm implements. Of all of our shortages, that in farm tools and implements is the most serious. Strikes have caused the shortages in farm implements—strikes in steel, strikes in coal, and strikes in the farm implement industry itself. The Institute has printed a booklet STEEL SERVES THE FARMER. Write for a copy and it will be sent gladly.
