Foreign Languages Should Be Part of High School Course

Educator Urges Schools to Teach Asiatic Courses

Mrs. Lucy Rodgers, school superintendent, Nelson Anderson, county agricultural agent and Miss Kathryn Monahan, county demonstration agent, were guest speakers at the weekly luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce at the Lucas Place Monday.

Recommendations in education made by Dr. Harold Benjamin, principal speaker at the conference, were reported by Mrs. Rodgers. Dr. Benjamin, in charge of international relations from the United States, office of education, was formerly superintendent of Umatilla schools.

Every high school should teach at least one foreign language thoroughly, according to Dr. Benjamin. Mrs. Rodgers said. "He recommended that the Asiatic languages be taught in schools on the Pacific coast, Spanish in the border states, and that schools of higher learning in Alaska be authorized on the Russian language and Russian life."

Miss Monahan discussed the methods of judging clothing, canning and cooking exhibits at the Hermiston fair. Greatest competition was among 4-H girls competing for the style revue at the state fair in Salem, she said.

"Morrow county is sending a demonstration team in home economics to the state fair for the first time this year," Miss Monahan reported. "The team, composed of Vesta Cutsforth and June Van Winkle of Lexington, will demonstrate 'the washing of a wool sweater.'"

Accompanying Miss Monahan to the Hermiston fair were Carolyn Bergstrom, Lorene Mitchell, Betty Jean Graves of Heppner, and Jane Van Winkle. The 4-H girls studied judging and demonstrations at the fair.

Mr. Anderson gave a general report on the exhibits at the Hermiston event.

Cutting Down Rifles Work of Hobbyists

Allen Case, Howard Bryant and Bill Cox are cutting down heavy army rifles into sleek sporting guns as a hobby. Ripping up a shop in the rear of the Case Furniture store a month ago, the three gunsmiths are now working on six rifles obtained through the National Rifle association. The guns will be cut down from 11 pounds in weight to about six and a half pounds each and will feature ivory inlays in the stocks, the men said.

Wheatgrowers of County Enlisting Under FCI Banner

Morrow county wheat growers generally are enlisting under the federal crop insurance banner symbolizing income security for the years 1947-48-49, declares Juanita Rietmann, county sales-manager.

Mrs. Rietmann is personally contacting as many wheat farmers as possible in the sales campaign which started last week and will continue until the dead line date, Sept. 28.

She is emphasizing that federal crop insurance premiums only the cost of losses with the federal government standing the cost of overhead to bring to wheat producers an income sufficient to pay cost of production and a living regardless of destruction to the crop by natural enemies. Lower premium rates and higher yields for all wheat farms in the county for 1947 reflect Morrow county's recent highly productive years with small loss from natural causes.

The program was introduced into Morrow county anew last year when contracts covering 142 farms were signed for the three year period. Many who signed these contracts are cancelling them by signing the new 1947-48-49 contract which gives them advantage of the higher yields and lower rates established for 1947.

Bands, the best riding horses in the country, floats from all over Morrow county, pets and novelty displays are scheduled to appear in the Heppner Rodeo parade to be held at 10 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 7, rodeo officials announced today. Queen Darlene I and her court will be at the head of the parade and Harry Dinges, secretary of the Rodeo association, will carry the flag.

Invitations have been sent to the Mustangs of Pendleton, the Trail Dusters of Hermiston and the Grant County board of directors for the royal court of officials to participate in the parade, officials stated. The Heppner and Irrigon bands will play in the parade and be in the grandstand at the rodeo grounds Friday and Saturday according to present plans. Children under 12 with their pets are invited to march in the festive parade.

A western, festive atmosphere was added to Main street Thursday morning when a variety of rodeo and welcoming flags were strung up and down the street and festooned over the business houses.

The new bleachers at the rodeo grounds, seating 350, have been finished and the old grandstand is being reinforced and re-roofed. Harry Dinges pointed out. New corrals and calf chutes are being completed while the grounds are being put in top condition. Work at the grounds is under the supervision of E. C. Dougherty, W. E. Hughes James Valentine and Frank Turner.

This Saturday Queen Darlene I and Princesses Gwen Coleman and Jean Hanna, Betty Smethurst and Betty Lovgren and the Heppner Rodeo board of directors will participate in the dress up parade for the Pendleton Roundup.

The Queen's dance will be held this Saturday evening at the Fair pavilion with music by Farrow's orchestra from Long Creek. Prizes will be presented to the best dressed cowgirl and cowboy at the dance.

Dodge's Greater Shows will set up their carnival and circus Thursday, Sept. 5 across from Morrow county Creamery and operate through Sunday, rodeo officials said. The biggest show ever to come to Heppner, the carnival will include 25 concessions, a ferris wheel, six special rides, ponies, special free circus acts and a small animal menagerie, elephant and lion.

The rodeo directors and their wives were entertained by President and Mrs. Lee Beckner with a chicken dinner and social evening last Saturday at the Beckner home in lone. Gene Normeyle, accompanied by his wife, entertained with vocal solos. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dinges, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buschke, F. W. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dougherty and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy.

Horse racing will be left open and will be made up of stock on the grounds at the rodeo, it was decided at a business meeting of the directors, held after the social hour at the Beckner home. Tickets are selling very satisfactorily, it was reported.

State and city police and rodeo officials today asked the public to park their cars in town and walk to the rodeo grounds to avoid traffic congestion and accidents. Drivers are also asked to park on sidestreets Friday night to clear Main street for the parade Saturday morning.

McCurdy Hosts To Rodeo Royalty

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy entertained in honor of the royal court of the rodeo with a dinner Wednesday night at the Lucas Place. President and Mrs. Lee Beckner of the Rodeo association were also special guests. Parade plans were discussed during the evening. The court includes Queen Darlene Biddle and Princesses Gwen Coleman, Jean Hanna, Betty Lovgren and Betty Smethurst.
