Buschke Anniversary

Buschke have taken life a little easier.

This would be shocking to OPA if it were to happen today, but Mrs. Buschke said that in raising a large family ample preparations have to be made for the winter store of food. "I canned as much as 400 half-gallon jars of fruit a season and it was nearly always sicked up."

Although they have travelled through 60 years of their lives together, the Buschkes are not living on borrowed time. They have taken a keen interest in what is going on, take pleasure in keeping up their pleasant little home, and above all enjoy their children and their children's children. "But we never interfere with their trouble or try to boss our children. We just enjoy them," Mr. Buschke said.

As stated before, 11 of the 12 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Buschke were here for the anniversary. One son, Robert, a veteran of World War I, died several years ago. Those present were Ed Buschke and family, Morgan; Mrs. Lowell (Lena) Twitchell, Las Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Hyle (Anna) Fahmerling, daughter Fern and grand-daughter Sally of Portland; William Lewis Buschke and wife, Portland; Fred A. Buschke and family, Elgin; Mary Edna Moore, Martha Brown and daughter Norma, Portland; Grace Karl and son Dickie, Seaside; Mr. and Mrs. Earl (Millie) Evans and family, Claude and Max Buschke and families, Heppner.
