

Mustangs Smother Bulldog Pack in Armistice Fracas

Heppner Displays Power in Winning Grid Classic 33-0

By Bob Mollahan
Coach Leonard Pate's high powered Heppner Hi grid eleven turned in a sterling performance as they gained a 33-0 shutout victory over the Hermiston Bulldogs in their annual Armistice day classic. The large holiday crowd of chilled spectators was completely stunned by the sheer power of the Mustang victory machine.

The once potent and still classy Hermiston squad showed few flashes of their old power as they were stopped cold during most of the game by an alert and hard charging Heppner team.

The Bulldogs' power plays off the quick opening T formation, in fact their whole ground attack, was rudely shifted into low by the Mustang's savage like defensive wall.

Heppner recovered a blocked Bulldog punt on Hermiston's own 10 yard line when the game was but three plays old to set their tallying machine in position. Lowell Rippe shot a pass to Jack Parrish in the end zone, three plays later, to hit the first jackpot for Heppner. Tom Hughes powered over for the extra point.

The Hermiston squad was again knocked back on its heels when quarterback Lowell Rippe romped to pay dirt following a sustained scoring drive from mid-field later on in the opening period. Though Tom Hughes didn't convert, a penalty against Hermiston, by a new ruling, automatically added the extra point to Heppner's score.

In the second cant Duane Gentry, Mustang's alert left end, intercepted a Hermiston lateral and dashed the remaining 10 yards for the third score. Jack Parrish skirted end for the extra point.

Half time score: Heppner 21, Hermiston, 0.

During the third stanza Heppner marched down to Hermiston's door step following a succession of first downs. From there jarring Tom Hughes battered over for the T.D. Try for extra point failed.

Coach Pate began to substitute freely but not before Jack Parrish put the finishing touches on by bouncing over for the final tally. Try for conversion failed.

Final score: Heppner 33; Hermiston, 0.

Buckburger Feed Draws Big Crowd

Platters heaped with "buckburgers" were passed around in continuous procession Monday evening when the Heppner post American Legion, assisted by the Legion auxiliary, served dinner to a large number of guests in the dining room of the Oddfellows hall. It was the annual get-together of legionnaires of the district, this year greatly multiplied by the advent of World War II veterans and their families.

In addition to the legionnaires the Hermiston and Heppner football teams and other invited guests were present.

Visitors were here from Hermiston, Arlington and Inez, as well as some of the district officers. The guests took in the football game in the afternoon, and following the buckburger feed, drove to the Rhea Creek grange hall where dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The football game, which Heppner won quite handily, was featured by the first public appearance of the Heppner school band. Director Billy Cochell would not trust his hopefuls to march in the parade to the grounds but the youngsters played throughout the game, performing in a creditable manner.

Pending compliance actions by the board will be transferred to the district office.

Move In Obtaining Hospital Plans To Be Taken Here Tomorrow

A move in the direction of obtaining plans for the Morrow county general hospital will be taken here tomorrow when a representative of a firm of architects in Portland will go over the site and confer with the special committee delegated by the county commission, namely the county court and Ralph Thompson.

Coming of the architect does not mean that early construction of the hospital is in prospect, county officials state. It is a step towards getting lined up on the type of building and possible expense of construction. It will require many months to accomplish preliminary details and in the meantime it is hoped labor and materials will be more plentiful and less expensive.

"I believe it is the obligation of the court and the hospital committee to get the greatest value possible for the money expended," Judge Bert Johnson said. "At present material prices and high labor costs the money would go about 50 percent as far as it should. I believe we will be justified in coating along until there is a leveling off."

The architect coming to look over the local situation is a member of the firm that designed the Seaside municipal hospital which was finished the past summer. The court and committee have been studying this hospital and may eventually adopt a similar type. It is a one and one-half story building of about 26 to 30 patient capacity. It is estimated that the Morrow county hospital should be about that size and the court hopes to learn more detail of construction and operation from the visiting architect.

It must be remembered that the court and committee are not committed to any particular type of building and a study will be made of different types before a decision is reached.

Sugar rationing has been administered from the district office since last January. In the future, sugar forms required by the trade and consumers may be obtained from the district office.

Pending compliance actions by the board will be transferred to the district office.

Case and Nikander To Run Marshall-Wells Hardware

Everything is not in readiness but will be by next week for the launching of a third hardware store in Heppner when Case and Nikander open the doors of the new Marshall-Wells unit No. 22 in the Case building, corner Main and Center streets. All new shelving, display counters and bins have been put in. Fluorescent lighting will be used, which with the full glass front should make the room a bright spot along the main thoroughfare.

Marshall-Wells stores have been located in numerous towns during the past few months. Pendleton and Milton are two of the newest in this area, while the company has recently put in a store at Carlton, Yamhill county, and one in Caldwell, Idaho.
