Veterans Administration Reports on Past Year

During 1946, more than 736,500 personal contacts with Veterans Administration offices in the Pacific Northwest and Alaska were made by veterans and their dependents, an average of slightly over one contact for every veteran in the area, the VA reports.

Figures for the year just ended show 19,698 veterans received loans for homes, farms and businesses at a total value of $87,881,281, of which the government guaranteed $42,101,359.

National Service Life Insurance policies of more than 400,000 veterans were moved to Seattle in July as a part of General Bradley's decentralization program, giving more efficient service to veterans of the Northwest.

At the end of the year, 73,900 veterans were taking training under provisions of the G.I. Bill. More than 54,000 were in educational institutions and almost 19,500 were taking job training. Almost 50,000 more had at some time during the year, been enrolled in training courses.

A total of 166,598 disability claims were filed during the year by Northwest veterans. Approximately 80,000 monthly disability or death benefits were being paid to veterans of all wars and their dependents at the end of 1946.

More Protection Given Vet Home Buys

Added protection for veterans purchasing real estate in the present high market is being offered through new procedures to be effective January 2, the Veterans Administration announced.

Under the revised system, the Veterans Administration, not the lender, will pick the appraiser of property under consideration for purchase by veterans. Appraisers will be designated by name for each piece of property under consideration. For the past 15 months, a lender was allowed to choose any appraiser from a panel whose general qualifications had been approved by the VA.

A tendency of some lenders to select "obliging" appraisers exclusively and consequently, get higher appraisals to meet the asking price, necessitated the change, the VA says.

Question of the Week

Q. Is there a provision for total disability income in National Service Life Insurance policies?

A. Yes. Total disability income benefits authorized by recent legislation can be added to any plan of National Service Life Insurance upon application with proof of good health and the payment of an extra premium.

OSC TO ENTERTAIN WEST'S DIRECTORS OF EXTENSION

Corvallis will be host to the extension service directors of the 11 western states at their annual conference next August 4 to 7. It was decided during the recent meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities in Chicago. At that meeting, F. L. Ballard, associate director of extension at O. S. C., was elected chairman of the western states directors for the coming year and will serve as chairman of the conference program committee. Ballard also was named as a member of the national extension committee on farm labor.

Wm. L. Teutsch, assistant director of extension, represented Oregon at the Chicago session. He reports that the meeting in Corvallis next summer will be devoted especially to discussions of older rural youth problems, soil conservation, and marketing, and that extension specialists in these fields will attend, together with directors from the states concerned.

Highways To Health

VEGETABLE MEDLEY

Vegetables take to milk, butter and cheese like a duck to water. There is something magic in a creamy white sauce, golden melted butter and zesty melted cheese that brings out the glamor in the commonest vegetable.

Mothers know that fresh green and yellow vegetables are a "must" in the family diet, nutritionally speaking, and when combined with milk, butter or cheese, they are doubly delicious and nourishing. Because many homemakers have trouble coaxing their families to eat vegetables, we offer a variety of preparation ideas to give those "ole carrots, beets and beans appetite-appeal."

First off comes a Savory Vegetable Sauce, guaranteed to make any vegetable taste special: Sauté 2 tbsp minced onion in 2 tsp butter 5 minutes. Add 1/2 cup fine soft bread crumbs, saute until light brown. Add 1 cup milk, 1/2 tsp salt, dash of pepper and perhaps a pinch of marjoram and thyme. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Serve over cooked carrots, green beans, broccoli, cabbage, diced turnips, beets or celery root. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Cauliflower with Cheese Sauce is an old favorite. Soak a head of cauliflower in salted water 30 minutes, drain, and cook in an uncovered kettle containing a large amount of water until just tender. Make a cream sauce of 2 tsp butter, 2 tsp flour, and 1 cup milk. Melt butter, blend until smooth with flour. Add milk slowly and cook, stirring until thickened. Add 3/4 cup grated American cheese and salt and pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, over very low heat until cheese melts. Pour over head of cooked cauliflower in casserole dish and bake in moderate oven until browned.

Here is an easy Hollandaise Sauce that makes broccoli, spinach or asparagus company fare. Combine 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 4 egg yolks, dash of cayenne and 1 tsp salt in a measuring cup. Set cup in a small saucepan containing gently boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened—about 7 minutes. Makes 2/3 cup sauce. Serve at once.

Soldiers See the Sights of Paris

Little did these two Army Regulars dream that some day they would be riding down the famed Avenue de Champs Elysees in Paris, but the travel, adventure, and comradeship offered by the Regular Army has made it a realization. Qualified young men between 18 and 34 years of age, inclusive, will be interested in seeing the sights of the world.

Bottled condiment sauce 1/4 tsp salt Pepper 1 cup grated American cheese

Soak onions in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and place in shallow baking dish. Cut a wide cross in top of each onion. Sprinkle a few drops of condiment sauce in each cross. Then sprinkle each onion with a little salt and pepper. Press 2 tsp of cheese into each cross. Bake in oven, 375 degrees, for about 40 minutes or until cheese is golden brown.

current agricultural trends and to establish policies to guide Oregon farm development in the years immediately ahead.

The current series of county conferences is particularly important, Teutsch pointed out, because it is concerned with the readjustment of farming to a peacetime basis. In each county, from 7 to 11 committees have been appointed by the local conference chairman to draft detailed reports to be presented at the county-wide meeting.

FOOTSTOOLS MADE FROM CAR SEATS AT WORKSHOP

Building nine footstools from 56 springs of old car seats in one day was a project directed by Miss Jean Starker, home demonstration agent in Clatsop county.

Eighteen women living at the government housing project just south of Astoria built stools at one workshop session, reports Mrs. Azalea Sager, state home demonstration leader at Oregon State college. Purpose of this project is to teach women what to look for in new furniture and how to repair worn out springs and underpadding.

Footstool projects began in Umatilla county last year where 300 stools were constructed. Other counties where demonstrations on footstools were held this year include Baker, Clackamas, Union, Crook and Douglas.

16 MORE COUNTIES TO HOLD FARM CONFERENCES

Fifteen Oregon counties are making preparations for county agricultural program planning and outlook conferences from late January through February, it was announced this week by Wm. L. Teutsch, assistant director of extension at O. S. C.

Similar conferences have been held in most Oregon counties at intervals of approximately 10 years since the middle 1920's, fifteen being held last year. Their purpose is to evaluate

Major topics with which these committees are concerned in most counties include land use and soil conservation, farm crops, livestock, poultry, dairying, rural youth, veteran's guidance, and farm home and community life. Some counties have separate committees on horticultural products and other special items of local importance.

In most cases, a report of the proceedings of the county conference will be published in booklet form as a reference and guide both for established farmers and new settlers, Teutsch stated. Counties holding conferences and the dates scheduled are as follows: Wasco, January 22; Umatilla, January 23; Coos and Willowa, January 24; Baker, January 25; Deschutes, January 29; Clatsop, February 18; Tillamook, February 19; Lincoln, February 20; Curry, February 21; Crook and Hood River, February 25; Douglas and Klamath, February 26; and Lake, February 27.

Among students spending the holidays at home is Loma Mae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones. She attends Northwest Christian college in Eugene.
