A "TRAIN OF TOMORROW" that is packed full of mechanical marvels, new-as-tomorrow interior decoration and many postwar features for the comfort and safety of passengers, has just been launched by General Motors, its designer, for a six-month exhibition tour of the country. Powered by a GM Electro-Motive Diesel locomotive, the cars are of an entirely new design, permitting an Astra Dome atop each (see above) for unrivaled view of landscape, and a depressed car floor beneath, resulting in four floor levels in every car. (Below) Among the first to enjoy a meal in the luxurious Astra Dome-Diner were Alice Faye and Phil Harris of movie and radio fame.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY

At forty, many persons have passed the zenith of active life. They tire easily, are irritable and feel they are on the shady side of life where they are privileged to take it easy. This is a fallacy.

NORMAL NERVE FUNCTION

is often retarded in middle life and this accounts for the let down feeling in many persons. At forty you can enjoy the buoyant expectancy of youth with its effortless ease of movement.
