Checks being conducted by state police have revealed many Oregon motorists are holding invalid driver's licenses. Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr. has reported. All licenses bearing serial numbers from 5R-99,000 and below are void.
Drivers are being urged to renew expired licenses immediately to avoid possible arrest.
Under the new renewal system enacted by the 1947 legislature, the expiration date printed on the face of each license is no longer correct. Instead, they must be renewed according to a schedule available free of charge at any service station, sheriff's office, police station, or driver's license clerk or examiner.
"Licenses numbered from 5R-99,001 to 5R-132,000 must be renewed this month," Farrell stated. "It is unlawful right now to drive with any permit bearing a serial number below 5R-99,000."
Renewals and information in Heppner may be obtained at sheriff's office, courthouse, between the hours of 8 and 5.
No examination is required to renew old licenses.

ACREAGE SURVEY SET
During the last few days of September approximately 800,000 farmers throughout the nation will be asked to help the crop reporting service in making a final check of 1947 crop production. In Oregon alone, 13,000 farmers or one out of five will receive cards from their agricultural statisticians on which to report the acreage of each important crop harvested and to be harvested on their ranches this year. The farmers being contacted are well distributed and represent a cross section of the state's agriculture, but the fact that the survey is on a sample basis makes it very important for those who receive cards to report irrespective of the size of operations. Information on production is of fundamental importance to both the farming interests and the government. The post office department is cooperating with the crop reporting service in distributing the acreage cards.

Veterans Reminded Of Opportunity To Join Famous Unit

Veterans were reminded today they will still apply for enlistment in a famous fighting unit and remain on duty in the Northwest area, according to Captain George R. Smith, Pendleton Army and Air Force Recruiting service commander.
Qualified men with prior service in any of the armed forces may enlist, or reenlist, for an initial assignment to any understrength unit or installation of their choice within the Sixth Army area. Of particular interest to local veterans is the Second Infantry division at Ft. Lewis and the Second Special Engineer brigade, the only amphibious outfit in the regular army, which is stationed at Fort Worden, Wn.
The Second division has many vacancies open, the recruiting station commander said, ranging from cooks and clerk-typists to the more skilled technicians in armament, communications and automechanics. Veterans living in the northwestern states, who choose this division for duty, will be serving close to their homes, he explained.
The engineer brigade, whose training grounds are the beautiful waters of Puget Sound, also needs veterans with varied skills. Naval and coast guard ex-servicemen will be interested in knowing the brigade uses such specialties as coxswains, marine engineers, deck seamen and shipfitters.
Former members of the army, navy, marines or coast guard interested in serving in either of these units may secure detailed information from the local army and air force recruiting offices at Room 360, Post Office building, Pendleton, Oregon.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We All Need Fun!
Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.
Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.
And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parchees or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.

New ways the telephone can reach remote areas

Radio telephone allows your voice to "ride the beam" into Death Valley, across the channel to Catalina Island . . . to Mount Hood . . . between Marysville and Redding. With transmitters like this one we can span sea or desert by radio and your voice sounds exactly as though it were coming over a telephone wire.

Power-line carrier is another new device which makes telephone communications possible in remote, sparsely settled districts. Your voice "hitch-hikes" along existing power lines on radio waves that are tuned to follow the wires. Several power-line systems are now used on the Pacific Coast . . . and they're as safe and effective to use as any.

These developments are dramatic . . . but most of our expansion program must be pushed with "everyday" things like this post-hole digger . . . wires and cables and switchboards. Our construction program of $200,000,000 this year brings us closer to our goal: the finest telephone service for the West.
New Working Dollars . . . Millions of new dollars needed to build buildings and buy new equipment to meet the public demand for more telephones and more service do not come from telephone bills. New dollars come from people who are willing to put their savings into the business. We must earn enough to attract these new working dollars.
