When winter comes along—cold, blustery mornings and nights with snow flakes falling—it's business as usual, as far as you're concerned. You just go your usual way, secure in the knowledge that you'll be warm and comfortable—and looking your best.
There is nothing so very surprising about this, when you come to think about it. The Curlee folks started a long time ago, making clothes for men who wanted the best. Over the years they have discovered or developed the ingredients which spell success. First of all, they search the market for fine materials, not only overcoat fabrics of good quality in the season's smart patterns, but linings and inner materials, as well. These they turn over to their skilled designers—men who KNOW what you want in the way of suits and overcoats. When they have created the patterns, expert workmen build lasting good looks and comfortable wear into every garment that carries the Curlee label.
One thing which is surprising, though, is that so much down-right quality can be packed into these Curlee Overcoats at such moderate prices. It is no wonder that when it comes right down to style—fit—and comfortable wear—so many discriminating men say, "MAKE MINE CURLEE."

... and still State Grange leaders (NOT all the Pomona Granges) oppose the Sales Tax

Oregon's Attorney General, George Neuner, in response to many queries inspired by Grange propaganda, has written and authorized for release the following on the seed, feed and fertilizer question:

"From a practical standpoint, it would appear that a regulation by the (state tax) commission EXEMPTING seed, feed and fertilizer (from the Sales Tax) would probably not be subject to attack, there being no one injured thereby who would have a legal status to sue."

It's just that simple! It can be assumed from the above that seed, feed and fertilizer WILL be exempt.

Are Oregon Grange leaders unaware that the national trend toward sales taxes (27 states have them) has largely been inspired by state Granges?

Grange Masters in Iowa, Nebraska, North Carolina and Colorado Uphold the Sales Tax as a Fair Tax!

H. B. CALDWELL, MASTER, NORTH CAROLINA STATE GRANGE:
"North Carolina has had sales tax law since about 1933. . . This tax has distributed the tax burden without hardship on any one group."

J. W. CARRADUS, MASTER, IOWA STATE GRANGE:
"I think that Sales Tax is the most fair tax we have. With such a tax, everyone pays his fair share of taxes with every purchase made."

B. V. HOLMES, MASTER, NEBRASKA STATE GRANGE:
"The Grange in our State has been in the Legislature two terms with a General Retail Sales Tax bill of 2%. We have been beaten both times."

L. R. PRITCHARD, MASTER, COLORADO STATE GRANGE:
"Our sales tax was put into effect March 15, 1935. It has been one of the most satisfactory taxes that we have here in Colorado, inasmuch as it is an equal tax, each paying according to their buying power."
"A Sales Tax is one of the 'honest' taxes that can be devised."
