

Achievements Of 4-H Clubbers In 46-47 Recognized

One hundred fifty-one 4-H members who have successfully ended the 1946-47 club year by completing the project they were enrolled in were recognized at the annual 4-H Achievement party that was held at the Lexington grange hall Friday evening, November 21. The 151 club members completed 197 projects, which shows that many of the members were carrying more than one project. Jane Seehafer, lone, topped all members by successfully completing four projects.

Approximately 150 club members, leaders, parents and persons interested in 4-H club work were on hand to enjoy the potluck supper served at 6:30. Club members and other children were entertained with games led by Mrs. Geraldine Danz, assistant 4-H club leader from Oregon State college. The program of the evening began at 8 p.m.

In opening the program, Roger Palmer and Betty Graves, members of the Morrow County Beef club, led the group in the pledge to the American flag, the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, and pledge to the 4-H flag. The lone Sewing Seven girls' club followed with the Pleading Song.

B. C. Pinckney, manager of the Heppner branch of the First National Bank of Portland, made the presentation of first, third, fifth and tenth year pins on behalf of his bank who furnish the bronze, silver and gold pins to these members. Mr. Pinckney congratulated this group of club members on completing their projects and urged that all first year members continue with their club work in future years. Among the 123 pins awarded was a gold pin for Jo Anne Graves who had successfully completed ten years of club work.

Ruth McCabe, lone, representing the Morrow County 4-H club council, presented the junior, second, fourth, sixth, and seventh year completion cards to 28 members. A highlight of the evening was the presentation of local leader pins and recognition to the 23 leaders who were responsible for this club year's completion of project work. Mrs. Geraldine Danz, assistant 4-H club leader, Oregon State college, made the presentation and congratulated these leaders for their work. Mrs. Danz also spoke to the club group, "daring" the group to make a better club year in 1947-48.

Red, White Clad Union Gridsters Take E. O. Title

A scintillating pitting attack by Rinehart, Hudson, Inc., from Union high school of Mustang state "B" football championship hopes aglimmering, 12-0, as the red and white clad visitors, backed by a large rooting section of fellow students and townspeople, exhibited some of the snappiest football witnessed in Heppner in many a day at Rodeo field Saturday afternoon. The victory gave Union the eastern Oregon title in class "B," and the right to meet the western Oregon "B" champs for the state flag. As leaders of district 8, they had but the Mustangs, district 7 champions, to overcome to gain the title.

And they found the greener Mustangs a plenty tough obstacle. While being forced to defend their own territory through most of the game, the home boys kept the visitors from crossing their goal line but twice. Minutes before the end of the first half, a Union pass for 26 yards placed the ball on Heppner's 1-yard line from where Halfback Larry Wilson bucked it over. End Alva Roberts' attempted kick for extra point was no good and the half ended, 6-0.

Again, just a few minutes before the final gun, when Clarence Greenup, Heppner mainstay at halfback had been taken from the game with an injured leg, and after a dazzling run of 16 yards by Wilson and a completed pass of 17 yards had placed the ball on the Heppner 5, Carl Hudson for the visitors again carried it across. This time an attempted pass for extra point failed, and the score at game's end stood 12-0. It had not been an easy, but it was a well-earned victory for Union.

Heppner had started the season with but two lettermen. Union's starting lineup contained but one sophomore, the remainder were juniors and seniors. The advantage in ball handling experience at season's start showed in this crucial contest. For it was in the passing department that Union held the edge. They attempted 19 passes and completed six. Heppner attempted eight passes and completed none. Union made 10 first downs to Heppner's seven. On line play there was little advantage.

OUR Harvest Means Real Thanksgiving for the WORLD

Once again, it's harvest-time. Here, in this nation are bumper crops... well-fed, happy people... real Thanksgiving spirit! But this joy and plenty are missing in many of our "neighbor" countries... and, today, all countries are our "neighbors"... for the world needs food badly. People cannot be hungry and contented (or peaceful) at the same time. Our people, constantly striving to produce greater and greater amounts of food, hides, wool has made this the wealthiest country in the world. Today, we bow our heads in thanks for another prosperous year and show our gratitude by sharing with those less fortunate than we.

FFA Announces Xmas Tree Sale

People of Heppner and vicinity will have no reason for going without Christmas trees this year, if they want them. A group of hustling, energetic young men who, before many years, will guide the agricultural destiny of the land, have decided to assure the citizens their Christmas tree supply while earning a few shekels to add to their "working capital."

In brief, the Future Farmers of America, Heppner unit, are announcing a sale of Christmas trees which will be available for the present at the school shop. It is planned to get a downtown lot as soon as possible where trees will be sold after school and on Saturdays. Consult their advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Girl Scouts Mail Christmas Gifts To Foreign Lands

By Joan Bothwell and Sally Cohn, Reporters
On Monday, November 17, every Girl Scout of Troop No. 2 of Heppner brought parcels of food from their homes to the meeting to send to a troop of Girl Guides in Banstead, Surrey, England. Our troop has been corresponding with girls of this troop for over a year. The food included canned vegetables, dried fruits, cereals, puddings, nuts, rice, tea, fish, and candy. The food was packed into ten cartons by the leader and troop committee who spent many hours doing it. The postoffice had a lot of extra work and used all of its glue, pasting on the labels and forms, and the 112 pounds of food finally left Tuesday evening for England.

It took $16.40 to send our food parcels to England. In fact, it took the last cent in our treasury to pay the postage. So we are broke, but very happy that we could send this "Treasure for Pleasure" to our sister Girl Guides, who are not so fortunate as we are.

By Sandra Lanham, Troop One Reporter
The Girl Scouts of Troop One have just completed the international project, "Treasures for Pleasure." This consisted of gathering and packing eight boxes of food and toys to be sent abroad for Christmas gifts. The girls chose to send their boxes to the Girl Guides in France and to the Girl Scouts in the Philippine islands. Included in the boxes were two dozen dolls, some of them made from yarn, and some were dolls which they brought from home and repaired and dressed. They also wrote letters to their foreign friends.

This project helped the girls to put into practice Girl Scout law number 4, "A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout." She has a feeling of good will toward people, regardless of nationality, creed or color. She makes an especial point of being friendly to all the members of her troop and to Girl Scouts everywhere.

On Nov. 24 they held their "Treasures for Pleasure" party. They wrapped the gifts in gay Christmas papers and packed them in mailing cartons. Hot chocolate and cookies were served by Mrs. Claude Graham and Mrs. Stephen Thompson. Mrs. Richard Meador was a guest of the troop.

Well, Well, It's A Small World . . .

While traveling towards Chicago last week, the editor was visiting with several people in the lounge car of the City of Portland streamliner. Two women were discussing the contrast between the snow-covered region through which the train was thundering on its mad race to the "Windy City," expressing a preference for their own Willamette valley where the roses are still in bloom and many other flowers not recognizing the season when they are not supposed to be in bloom.

When the timid editor finally got in a word he informed the "valley" folk that eastern Oregon could also do a little bragging along that line. The mention of eastern Oregon brought a quick response from one of the women. "Which section of eastern Oregon do you hail from?" "From Heppner," "Heppner! That's my old home town!" Then followed the usual questions—what's your name, etc. It turned out that the lady in question was Mrs. Paul S. Rutledge, lately of McMinnville and then en route to New York with her son, Billy Kistler, where they would embark for Germany to join Capt. Rutledge at Mannheim. Mrs. Rutledge is the daughter of our own townsman, W. P. Prophet, and attended the Heppner schools.

Civic Center To Open To Students Sunday Afternoon

At a meeting of the Junior chamber of commerce Tuesday evening at the civic center club room arrangements were made for throwing open the center's facilities to the high school student body. The initial opening will take place Sunday afternoon, November 30.

Donald DuBois and Loren Piper, representing the student body, met with members of the Junior chamber of commerce to present the school group's wishes. They asked for a juke box, ping pong tables, chess and checker games as a start towards a well equipped club room and also asked that the students be given use of the center on Sunday afternoons, Thursday and Saturday nights. The requests were found easy to meet and arrangements were made to start the youth center movement this coming Sunday afternoon.

At the request of the students that the Jaycees provide suitable adult supervision, Gordon Grady and Dr. C. C. Dunham volunteered for the Sunday afternoon period and the supervisors for the other periods will be chosen later this week.

Community Chest Drive to Open Saturday Morning

A drive to wind up the community chest campaign in Morrow county will open Saturday morning, according to announcement of Blaine E. Isom, chairman, who will be back in town from a Thanksgiving trip to Portland to direct the work.

Isom will solicit the business district and has arranged with the members of the DeMolay residing in town to canvass the residential section. In the rural areas the granges and the Girl Scouts will do the canvassing.

Although late in getting started, it is expected that the campaign will close very shortly and that Morrow county will have met its quota.

TO ATTEND GAME

Fr. Francis McCormack and his cousin, Fr. Duignan of Dufur, plan to leave Sunday for Los Angeles to attend the Notre Dame-U. S. C. football game December 6.
