C. of C. Directors Adopt Program Of Activities For 1948

Roads and Civic Improvements Due For Consideration

Activities of the Heppner chamber of commerce were outlined in a meeting of the board of directors at the First National bank building Tuesday evening. The meeting was presided over by President Jack O'Connor and was attended by nine of the ten directors.

First thing on the president's agenda was the subject of roads. It will be the purpose of the chamber of commerce to work with other agencies of the county in formulating and assisting in getting worked out a comprehensive road program. The chamber also is interested in developing roads into neighboring communities outside the county for the purpose of establishing better trade relations. Dr. L. D. Tibbles was named chairman of the road committee. Other members will be chosen in the near future.

There will be some pushing on the Heppner flood control dam, since it has been learned that it is on the list of approved projects submitted by the army engineers. More information relative to approval is desired before positive action is taken.

Civic improvements came in for some discussion and Edwin Dick was named chairman of that committee.

The matter of budgeting the chamber's funds brought up a discussion of donations — just what are considered legitimate gifts from an organization that has as its primary function the commercial welfare of the community. Clarence Bauman heads a committee to go into the matter.

Efforts to outline the functions of a planning committee resolved into the conclusion that the board of directors is the official planning committee. However, the president felt that an official "rubber" was needed so he designated O. G. Crawford as the planning committee chairman.

At Monday's luncheon, Dr. L. D. Tibbles made a report on the Rose Bowl game, pronouncing it the most interesting football playing he had ever seen. The stress was on the Michigan team, the machine-like precision with which the play was executed, and the inability of the California team to solve the plays. He praised the Pasadena parade and the manner in which traffic is handled at the parade and the football classic.

Among those from Heppner attending the woolgrowers meeting in Portland this week were Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barratt and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Thompson.

PEOPLE GETTING TOO GOOD: NO COURT CASES FOR MORE THAN MONTH

Something has gone wrong with the populace. Each time the GT scribe visits the court house he takes a glance at the spindle in the sheriff's office containing the arrest notices. The vigil has been kept since December 9 and no new names have appeared since that date.

Inquiry about the office failed to reveal a satisfactory answer. "Just one of those things," is about all the reason given. Maybe when warmer days arrive there will be a revival of business.

Isom Family In Crash Friday Night

Friday evening, while driving into Pendleton from their ranch on Reith hill, the Blaine E. Isom car crashed into another car stalled on the highway, resulting in serious injuries to Mrs. Henry Struve and cuts and bruises to the three members of the Isom family.

Mrs. Struve, Mrs. Isom's mother, was riding in the front seat with Mr. Isom and Mrs. Isom and Harriet were in the rear seat. A heavy fog obscured the highway and there was no chance to stop or veer aside from the stalled car or Mrs. Irma Murphy which reportedly blocked both lanes. Mrs. Struve suffered wrist and nose fractures and a dislocated shoulder. Isom received cuts and minor knee injury and the rear seat occupants were badly shaken and suffered bruises.

Mrs. Struve was taken to a hospital where she is reported improving.

The Heppner Mustangs broke even in basketball play the past week, winning from Fossil on the latter's court, 28-22, and dropping one to Echo at Echo, 34-13.

The Fossil game was nip and tuck all the way, Heppner trailing 6-5 at the quarter, leading 13-10 at the half and tied up at 20-all at the end of the third. Baskets by Greenup, Sumner, and two by Waters the last period sewed up the ball game.

The line-ups:

Heppner	Fossil
Greenup (13)	F (5) George
Waters (4)	F (6) Raina
Sumner (5)	C (4) Greenfield
C	Ostrander
Padberg (6)	G (2) Mathews
Rippee	G (4) Roark
G	(1) Harrison

In the preliminary Heppner reserves won their game, 24-21. Heppner boys to see action in this game were Manners, Hughes, East (5), Gabler, Smith, Connor (2), Ruhl (7), Key, Orwick (10).

The boys had a bad night at Echo, the ball simply refusing to go through the hoop. The first quarter neither team was able to find the basket which ended, 3-1 Echo, Echo then found the range but the Mustangs remained cold. Try as they might, points eluded them.

Greenup scored 8 of Heppner's points while Snow was the big gun for Echo with 14.

Heppner reserves won the opener 18-17 in a thrilling game which saw Echo almost overcome a 10 point Heppner lead in a last minute scoring spree. Smith of Heppner was high point man in this game with 8 counters.

Heppner plays Arlington on the local floor this Friday night. From all reports Arlington is good.

Townies Win From Boardman, 45-38

It wasn't all against Heppner here Monday evening, for La Verne Van Marter's B squad gave the Helix' bees a shellacking to the tune of 32-22.

The Condonites are coming here to play a March of Dimes benefit game with the Townies and the local boys will be rehearsing regularly for the purpose of giving the visitors something to think about. Mr. and Mrs. George Holden who reside in Westchester county, New York, some thirty miles from the city, have written her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Claude Cox, concerning the recent severe storm there. The Holdens suffered no ill effects from the storm, having had a new supply of fuel delivered just prior to its arrival and at no time were they without water or electricity. Mrs. Holden states that in their particular circumstances the snow seemed great fun but to people in neighboring districts where the supply of heat, electricity and water was cut off, it was a time of considerable inconvenience and discomfort. In her letter, Mrs. Holden remarked that the situation was well under control but that it had required several days to bring things back to any degree of normalcy.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrel Benge were hosts for a cocktail party beginning at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at their home on Gale street. Fresh fruit and lighted tapers formed a centerpiece for the table from which hors d'oeuvres and canapes were served. A basket of cut flowers made an attractive arrangement for the buffet. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Claude Graham, Mrs. Fidelia Unrein and Mrs. Harlan D. McCurdy Sr., Mrs. Josephine's young son, "Butch" Reiningen, was in charge of the guest book. During the course of the evening, some one hundred fifty guests dropped in on the party.

JANUARY 15-30

THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, FOUNDER

March of Dimes Stages Appeal January 15-30

Morrow county is joining the rest of the country in launching the annual fund-raising drive marking the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The drive opens today and continues through January 30.

"The stage is all set locally," Francis Nickerson, Morrow county chairman said this morning, "and I look for this section to go over as well as it did in 1947. From today through January 30 every man, woman and child will have the opportunity to share in combating a dread disease which for the past five years has hit the country with the greatest severity ever witnessed in history."

Nickerson has planned several activities during the two-week period to stimulate interest in the drive. LaVerne Van Marter, himself a polio victim, has arranged for one and maybe two games of basketball between the Townies teams and other representative town teams of the area, the proceeds of which will be donated to the polio fund. A dance is being held January 30.

Heppner plays Arlington on the local floor this Friday night. From all reports Arlington is good.

Some thirty members of the Wranglers, Morrow county riding club, met Tuesday evening at the office of Turner, Van Marter & Co. for a business session. Naming of committees constituted the main business and resulted in Harlan McCurdy Sr. being appointed drill and parade director and Harold Erwin, Cliff Dougherty and Norman Nelson named as entertainment committee.

The club decided to have a dance and potluck supper as a winter activity and chose Saturday the 24th as the date and the Lexington grange hall as the place.

Following the business session, refreshments were served at the Heppner Cafe with Mrs. Fred Mankin and Oscar George as hostess and host.

MOVING HERE SOON

Mrs. Lester Doolittle writes the Gazette Times that she and Mr. Doolittle expect to again take up their residence in Heppner before long. Too much rain and too little sunshine during the winter time give them a yearning to be back in the good old home town. (They may be surprised at the lack of sunshine here, for that matter, although it has been nice the past few days.)
