Club News

Peggy Wightman, member of the junior livestock 4-H club, accompanied her father, Dick Wightman, to Junction City the past week end where she purchased a registered Hampshire ewe from the C. M. Hubbard & Sons Hampshire farm. Hampshire ewes for Eddie Brosnan, Sally Palmer and Mardene Baker were trucked back at the same time. These Morrow county club members now have six registered Hampshires which is a good start toward building up sheep breeding flocks for their 4-H projects.

The Hardman Art and Hobby club, with Mrs. Walter Wright as leader, the junior 4-H livestock club, Elmer Palmer, leader, and senior 4-H livestock club, E. M. Baker, leader, have their program of work for the club year complete and very well planned. These club leaders are to be congratulated on the program outlined to be followed by the club members this year.

These programs will be published in this column as space permits in the next few weeks. Watch for them.
