

Seven Offices To Be Filled This Year In County

Superintendent Of Schools No Longer Elective Office

This is the year when most of the county officers are to be elected. Seven terms expire, including the judge, one commissioner, clerk, sheriff, district attorney, surveyor and coroner. Besides these, three justices of the peace posts are to be filled, Lexington, Lone and Irrigon.

There is little stir, politically, so far, but it is quite sure that Judge Bert Johnson, Clerk C. W. Barlow and Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman will be candidates to succeed themselves. Commissioner L. D. Neill, whose term expires this year, states that he will not be a candidate for another term. He is quite emphatic about it and does not want any move started to get him into the race. Mr. Neill is rounding out his third term.

It seems likely that a district attorney will have to be imported. The three Heppner attorneys appear to be not interested and P. W. Mahoney says he does not want the job either by nomination or write-in and he definitely will not file.

Passage of the school bill—the French bill—has automatically taken the office of county superintendent off the elective list. The new five-member county school board is vested with the power to appoint a superintendent, or a board clerk. It has not been ascertained what the attitude of the board will be relative to retaining the superintendent's office, but in view of the fact that the whole set-up is new it is reasonable to expect that it will be retained.

Harry Tamblin, elected to the post of surveyor at the last election, did not qualify and now that office is unfilled and will be on the ballot this year.

Dr. A. D. McMurdo has been coroner so many terms that it has become a habit, so his name will probably be on the ballot this year.

Against Condon the locals jumped to an 8-4 first quarter lead and held a 15-13 half-time edge. Condon came back strong and led 23-20 at the third quarter mark. The Condon boys proved to be a team of sharp shooters but close guarding by the Mustangs kept them from getting many shots. Heppner passed up two foul shots in the last minute, electing to take the ball out of bounds in order to maintain possession.

The Mustangs rallied the third quarter and racked up 19 points, leading 30-26 at the end of the period. Echo came back strong but fell short by one point. Heppner turned down three chances at gift tosses the last thirty seconds, preferring to take the ball out of bounds and keep possession.

Wranglers Party Raises $80 For March Of Dimes

A contribution of $80 was made to the March of Dimes the first of the week when Oscar George, president of the Wranglers, turned over that amount to Francis Nickerson, county director of the polio fund drive. The sum was raised by "passing the hat" at the Wranglers party Saturday evening held at the Lexington grange hall.

The party was well attended, there was plenty of good food on hand, and everybody had a fine time, George reports.

"The Wranglers is not an organization for pleasure only," Mr. George said. "We feel we have a place in the community life and want to do our part in those things that help advance the welfare of the county."

Evidence of this is seen in the aid offered by the Wranglers in stopping the advance of the Mormon cricket herds headed towards the grain fields of the county. A drive is being planned for early spring and since the known habitat of the pests is out in a region where trucks and cars would find rough going, the Wranglers have volunteered to make the trip by horseback, carrying the necessary supplies and equipment by horseback and assisting in putting out the poison.

This correction is being made in this manner in lieu of space for reprinting the advertisement, due to limotopy trouble which necessitated abbreviating the paper this week.

Student Veterans Advised To Give Notice of Transfer

Student-veterans planning to transfer to other schools were advised today by the Veterans Administration to give at least 30 days' notice on their plans, if they wish to avoid possible delay in payment of subsistence.

Leslie R. French, VA training officer here, pointed out that some veterans had changed schools for winter term but might suffer some delays on their checks because the VA did not have their papers for processing in advance.

To enroll at a new school the veteran will need a supplemental certificate of eligibility from the VA's regional office, and this requires both a notice to the agency and a statement from the present school showing satisfactory progress in studies.

The new school will enroll the veteran without charging him tuition if he has this supplemental certificate. However, if he is enrolled in a different state, the VA can not start paying subsistence until his file has been transferred to the regional office in the new state.

Those planning between-state transfers therefore should submit a request for transfer of their files along with their request for a supplemental certificate of eligibility. Leslie R. French advised, VA authority for changing schools is required of students under either the GI Bill or Public Law 16.

Farm Bureau To Hear Educator At Lone February 2

Lester Wilcox from the state department of education at Salem will be the featured speaker at the Morrow County Farm Bureau meeting to be held at Wilcox's subject has not been announced, it is presumed that he will discuss Oregon's educational system in general, with special emphasis on the duties and powers of the newly formed county school boards and the procedure to follow in organizing union high school districts.

It is the latter subject that brot about the invitation to Mr. Wilcox, inasmuch as there is some agitation for the formation of a union high school district comprising the lone, Lexington and Heppner districts and calling for the construction of a new plant at a point most convenient for the greatest number of students.

J. G. Barratt has been asked to talk on the recent meeting of county fair associations in Portland. It will cover both county and state fairs. He may also be prevailed upon to say something about latest developments in the proposed Morrow county hospital.

George Peck will have a report on the findings of the special committee appointed last fall to study road financing in the county. It is expected this will lead to a good bit of discussion, probably sparked by Barratt who is chairman of the committee.

Oscar Peterson, secretary, while not promising refreshments, says he believes the committee is strongly inclined towards having a bite to eat at the conclusion of the program.

The first event of the kind to be held in the county since 1938, the agricultural planning conference will open at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the Lexington grange hall.

Bill Barratt, general chairman, promises a fast-moving program with something of interest in the reports and discussions which follow, for practically every farmer in the county, regardless of what his production may be.

Six conference committees made up of farm men and women from practically every section of the county have held 33 separate meetings during the past several weeks, states County Agent Nelson Anderson, general conference secretary, who has been assisting various committees with their work. "The committees are seeking to find the answer to the question of what Morrow county farms can produce and market to best advantage during the peace-time years ahead," said Anderson. "They are also considering what practices will make for lower costs of production and greater profits, as well as what can be done to bring about a better farm home and rural life in the county."

Farmers and others of the county have been duly advised of the conference and it is expected the capacity of the grange hall will be taxed to care for the crowd. Arrangements have been made for entertainment from the Heppner and Lexington schools and a plate lunch will be served by the ladies of the Lexington grange home economics club.

Farm problems will not be the only items on the program, although nothing will be introduced that does not affect the farm program. The question of roads will be incorporated in the public education report. Discussions will be limited to the time allotted for the reports, which a study of the accompanying program will reveal will not permit open discussion.

Angling Rules Set By Commission At January Meeting

The final angling regulations for 1948 were adopted January 26 by the Oregon State Game commission after reconvening its hearing from two weeks ago when tentative regulations were formulated.
