Truck And Lumber Burn On Grade Out Of Kinzua Friday

By Elsa M. Leathers

A terrible accident occurred on the grade early Friday evening when a large load of finished moulding lumber slipped and caused the truck to turn over on a curve. The truck and load belong to Bud Shannafelt, son of Mrs. O. D. Baker of Hermiston, who has a lumber yard there. The finished lumber was for some houses being built at Hermiston and he had purchased it here. Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Baker were driving close behind the truck and saw it go over and catch on fire. They rushed up and tried to get the door open. The window was finally opened from the inside and the small son of Mr. Shannafelt was put through first, then he and the helper got through. None was injured. The lumber and truck were a complete loss in spite of the fire extinguishers and lots of help. About 15 cars returning from the Fossil-Condor ball game were detained for some time about 11:30 when they couldn't get by the fire. It burned until about 3 a.m. Saturday.

COUNTIES' INCOME FROM FORESTS INCREASED

Over a million and a half dollars of fiscal year 1947 national forest receipts are being distributed to counties in Oregon and Washington, says H. J. Andrews, regional forester, U. S. Forest Service, Portland, Oregon. This represents twenty-five per cent of national forest gross receipts from sale of timber, and other forest uses. In accordance with existing law, such payments in lieu of taxes are made each year by the federal government to counties having national forests within their borders. The law states that the money is for roads and schools. An additional ten per cent of the receipts is made available for forest service use on forest roads.

Oregon receives $938,870.56 and Washington gets $737,852.43 making a total for the two states of $1,676,722.99. This is an increase over fiscal year 1946, which showed $559,280 for Oregon and $398,089 for Washington, a total of $957,369. The expanding cut of national forest timber, to meet current demand for lumber, accounts for the increase, says Andrews.

"We are placing national forest timber on the market as rapidly as we can make it accessible," Andrews said.

ble, and arrange for orderly harvesting of the crop under sustained yield principles," said Andrews. "Since this great public resource is being managed and harvested for the long time public welfare, cash returns to local counties should continue or even increase in the future. Thus the national forests pay their way, as well as contribute to community welfare and stability."

Take the oil filters for instance. "Caterpillar" lubricating oil filters were developed specifically for "Caterpillar" Diesel Engines and play an important part in prolonging life. They are a combination metal edge and absorbent type.

The outer metal elements are cleaned and replaced when the oil is changed while the low-cost inner elements are discarded and new ones installed.

Come in and see us. We'll be glad to show you first hand how efficiently the "Caterpillar" oil filters keep oil clean.
