Every man has a right to his opinion, but no man has a right to be wrong in his facts.—Bernard Baruch, quoted in Pathfinder.

A chemistry professor asked his class what they considered the most outstanding contribution chemistry had made to the world. The first student to answer shouted: "Blondes!"—Reader's Digest.

"Which of your 13 children do you love the most?" a nurse at New York's Henry Street Settlement asked a mother from the slums.

"The one who is sick until he gets well," replied the mother; "the one who is away until he gets home."—Reader's Digest.

We've put it off as long as we can! Effective March 2nd, adult admissions will be increased to 60c and student admissions to 50c; 10c out of each of these admissions goes to the Federal Government as amusement tax. For the present, we will lower the children's admissions to 20c. The student admission price is a reduced rate from the regular adult price; we give this to the students as a gesture of good will and pay the additional tax called for by reduced rates. Noise-making and other misbehavior by this group in the theater will result in the elimination of the student rate.

Each Saturday afternoon during March, there will be a short Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. made up of films especially suited for children's entertainment. There will be special afternoon price reductions and more definite announcement on the March Programs.

Doing business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark. You know what you are doing but nobody else does.—Edward L. Renno.

It's a man's life!

Do you know whether you've got what it takes when the chips are down?

There's one good way to find out just how much of a man you are. Enlist in the U. S. Army as a combat soldier. That's tops. That's the spearhead—the sharp cutting edge of the Army's manpower.

The world's best training for manhood is in the Infantry, Artillery and Armored Cavalry. Once you've made the grade in those hard-hitting services you'll know what you've got. You'll have firm confidence in your own abilities.

It's a proud feeling to be able to say "I'm a U. S. Army Soldier." There's no more honored title than that. It stands for the finest fighting man on earth.

The work of a combat soldier isn't easy or soft. But it's vitally important to the peace and security of America. There's satisfaction in it. There's good pay—better than in most civilian jobs. There's the opportunity for excellent training in a wide variety of valuable trades and skills. And there are other things money can't buy—such as rugged, clear-eyed health and the lasting comradeship of real men.

If you're 18 to 34 years old (17 with parents' consent), physically sound and mentally keen—if you'd like to prove to yourself that you measure up as a man—talk it over at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today!
