Death Comes To Mrs. Bassett After Lingering Illness

Mrs. Joe Hughes received word Monday of the death of her mother, Mrs. Olive Davis Bassett, at Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. Hughes returned from Long Beach recently where she spent several weeks at the bedside of her mother and the news was not unexpected.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in Hodson's Mortuary in Newberg, with interment beside her husband, Mrs. Hughes left Wednesday evening to attend the services.

Olive Davis Bassett was born December 17, 1872 in Washington, Pa. At the age of four she moved with her family to California, her father being a captain in the Union army during the Civil war. He took up a homestead near Dixon, that state. In 1880 she entered Dixon academy and it was while attending school she became a member of the Baptist church.

From that time on throughout her life she was active in church work. On April 13, 1892 she was married to Glenn Otis Bassett. In 1898 they moved to Oregon where they made their home until the death of Mr. Bassett November 16, 1916. After her husband's death and her children became scattered in Oregon and California she made her home in California most of the time.

Mrs. Bassett was the matriarchal head of a family of 60, being the mother of seven daughters and two sons. Surviving are Mrs. A. E. Williams, Portland; Mrs. Joseph J. Hughes, Heppner; Florence B. Correll, Santa Monica, Calif.; R. H. Bassett, Salem; Mrs. R. B. McKeown, Alameda, Calif.; Mrs. Horace Jones, Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. C. M. Hollingsworth, Long Beach; Mrs. Arthur Piculell, Pomona, Cal. One sister, Mrs. Albert Bede, Sacramento, and one brother, W. H. Davis, Sacramento, 25 grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren.

During the second World War Mrs. Bassett had eight grandsons and one son in the service. Three of the grandsons made the supreme sacrifice.
