

Campfire Girls At Lexington Given Rank Recognition

By Mrs. Cecil Jones
At a lovely candlelight ceremony Friday, June 11, in the I.O.O.F. hall all three groups of Campfire girls received recognition of rank and received all honors due them. The group marched into the hall singing the walking song and following Mr. Henderson who preceded them carrying the American flag. After all were in their places the girls and congregation said the flag salute. Mr. Hatch then gave the opening prayer. Next the Horizon club girls lighted the seven craft candles and said their pieces. Betty Griffin gave the light of Homecraft. Miss Nelda Brown the light of Creative Arts. Ruth Ann Acklen, Frontier Craft; Ida Buchanan, Outdoor Craft; Jo McMillan, Business Craft; and Patricia Majesko, Sports and Games Craft. Iris Bloodsworth, Citizenship Craft. After which the Bluebirds said their blue bird wish and received from Mrs. Christopherson, their leader, the birthday honor. This honor is given each year for special work done from January to March to celebrate the birth of Campfire Girls. Those from the Bluebirds receiving this were Janice Hayes, Barbara Grant, Gloria Christopherson, Nancy Buck, Shirlee Peck, Donna Graves. Mrs. Christopherson also presented the birthday honors to the Campfire Girls. Beverly Nolan, Pat McMillan, Shirlee Hunt and Doris Grant. The Horizon club girls receiving this were Jo McMillan, Iris Bloodsworth and Betty Griffin, and two girls who were absent. Edna Ivey and Aileen Shannon. After this Mr. Henderson presented all eligible girls their beads. These are given for a variety of things concerning their home, school, church and outdoor life. After this Miss Nelda Brown, Campfire executive from Walla Walla, gave the girls their service honor. This is a very special honor given for volunteer service to the community. These girls got this from their work in the rental library that they have in the I.O.O.F. hall. These are lovely honors embroidered on white with blue and red silk thread. The emblem is given for ten hours of service, and red stars are added for 25 hours of additional service. After earning two stars one is eligible for a chevron for the next 50 hours. All girls were eligible for the service award for this work and other to the community: Jo McMillan, Ida Buchanan, Iris Bloodsworth, Betty Griffin, Edna Ivey and Aileen Shannon. Those eligible for the chevron were Iris Bloodsworth, Ida Buchanan and Jo McMillan. Mrs. Delpha Jones, guardian of Campfire Girls, then gave them their certificates of rank. The girls then stood up and told their Indian names and what they meant, and showed the people their bolo jackets, which have the symbols of their names on them in felt, which were very impressive. The Horizon club girls then showed their ceremonial gowns which are new. There was a closing prayer by Mr. Hatch and the Horizon club sang the closing song. Before the grand council fire took place in the hall there was a potluck dinner in the dining room under the direction of Mrs. Anlonzo Henderson. The tables were decorated with white cloths and flowers for center pieces, with the matching plates and napkins. There was a good crowd in attendance, with a carload of Bluebirds coming from Irigton with their leader, Mrs. Hill. Beginning the grand council fire before the girls entered the large room. Marvin Way played Revellie and Jo McMillan gave an Indian call, and in closing of all ceremonies Marvin played taps. Between the dinner and the main event, Miss Brown showed them pictures of summer camp in the motion picture machine. These were of Camp Kiwanis. Where five of the Campfire Girls are going this summer, and gave them a talk on Campfire in general. The three groups take this means of thanking all who helped with this event, and to thank all for coming.

Boardman 4-H Club Group Leaves For OSC Summer School

By Flossie Coats
Five 4-H members who were chosen to attend the summer school at Corvallis left early Tuesday morning for Hermiston to join others on the bus and travel on via Heppner. Those going were Delores Zivney, Ora Ely, Nancy Rands, Gracia Yellie, and Elnor Earwood. Donald Gillespie, the only boy eligible was unable to attend. Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Eble and sons, Chas. Jr. and Keith left this week for their former home in Philadelphia, Penn. for a five-weeks visit with parents and other relatives. During Rev. Eble's absence the elders of the Community church will have the pulpit filled or a special program. Mrs. Bernedette Woolley of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, who had spent several weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tannehill, left for her home Monday. Mrs. Woolley came to see her first and new granddaughter, Mary Leola Tannehill. The highway west of town is opened to traffic today. This will be an asset to the business houses to have the tourists again. Some of the business houses have been closed the past while due to highway being closed. Children's Day program will be held at the Community church Sunday at 1:30 a.m. Sunday school at the regular hour, 10:30 a.m. Keith Tannehill, high school student, received reserve championship on his Hereford steer entered in the livestock show at Union last week. The animal was sold to the highest bidder and has received 34 cents per pound. This is Tannehill's first year doing ag work. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Montague are the parents of a son born May 7 at St. Anthony's hospital, and he has been named Ronald Lee. This is the first child in the Montague home. Mr. Montague is mechanic at the Boardman garage. George Daniels was taken to Pendleton Wednesday with an abscessed eye, and remained in the hospital for a few days treatment. Faye Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson, fell from the porch Wednesday and broke an arm. She was treated in Pendleton. Mrs. Chas. Stoltnow returned home Thursday from Bremerton, Wash., where she had been the past few weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williams. The Williams brot her home and will remain for a week's visit here. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Root and children of Gridley, Calif., stopped for a short visit with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Root. Mr. and Mrs. Earl White and son Verlon of Goldendale, Wash., were guests at the Armin Hug home Friday. Little Patricia Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller, celebrated her second birthday Friday. Those attending with their mothers, were Mrs. Elvin Ely and Irene, Mrs. Leo Potts and Irene; Mrs. Willard Baker, Carolyn and Connie; Mrs. Alan Billings, Brenda; Mrs. Ray Gronquist, Keith and Dennis; Mrs. John Partlow, Susan, Johnnie and Stephen; Mrs. Roy Partlow, Patty and Jimmie; Mrs. Dewey West, Larry and Dewena; Mrs. Woolley and Maciea; Mrs. Ernie Knoop, Sandra and Gregg; Mrs. Ed Beaver and Lloyd; Mrs. Wm. Garner and Anita; Mrs. Jack Getz and Billie; Mrs. Ralph Skoubo and Dicky, and Mary Joann Pearson. Marlene Billings aided Grace Miller with the little ones. Ice cream and cake were served. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Willet of The Dalles visited Friday and Saturday at Mrs. Willet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Messenger. Mrs. Abe Westland and daughter arrived Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nickerson. Mr. and Mrs. Westland lost all their belongings in the Vanport flood, and Mrs. Westland has been with a sister in The Dalles since, while Mr. Westland remained in Portland running the service station. Their young sons, Dicky and Bobby, were at their grandparents' home here at the time of the flood. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Root and son Curtis of Athena spent Sunday with Root's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Root. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stoltnow of Arlington visited friends in Boardman Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stoltnow, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williams and family motored to Pilot Rock Sunday. Word has been received that Mrs. Alvin Deulin is in a critical condition in Portland. She was taken down last week by her husband and father, Ed Kunze. Her mother, Mrs. Kunze, was called to her bedside Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skoubo are spending a few days on the Deschutes fishing.

Many of the farmers are having at this time. The Skoubo's are in the middle of the crop on the highway farm. Mrs. Lester Robinson of Harman and her niece, Miss Ramona McDaniel of Kinzua were shopping in Heppner Saturday. Ramona is working at the switchboard in the Heppner telephone office for the summer.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him: "Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep." According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax." Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed. From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

RECRUITING SERVICE

If Oregon is to have the telephone service it needs
If the people of Oregon are to have the amount and kind of telephone service they are demanding and should be furnished, we must have enough price relief to meet current wages and costs and to keep our credit sound. Our price levels in Oregon have lagged far behind general price levels. The increase in revenues granted last January, the first increase in over a quarter of a century, averaged only 9½ per cent. We wish we could pay post-war prices for all that we buy and charge only slightly more than prewar prices for what we have to sell but this is impossible. Our earnings in Oregon, including the rate revisions granted last January, won't do the job. Current earnings on the dollars invested in Oregon are less than half of what are needed to do the job. Between now and the end of next year we should spend $26,500,000 to enlarge and improve the telephone system to meet the needs of the people of Oregon. To do this we must go to investors for money. Investors are alike in one thing—they put their dollars where they can expect safety and a fair return. To provide a fair return, we are filing new rate schedules with the Public Utilities Commissioner of Oregon.
