

Thanksgiving Day Wedding Comes as Surprise to Friends

By Elsa M. Leathers

The Army Air corps recruiter was here from Portland Sunday morning to get Frank Phillips who had enlisted in the air corps last month. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Phillips.

Charlene Rood and Kelsey Collins surprised their many friends when they were quietly married at Pendleton on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Collins is the daughter of Walter Rood of Elgin, formerly of Heppner, and Helen Williams of Hermiston. Mr. Collins is from Missouri, but has been employed by the Kinzua Pine Mills for a long time. They plan to make their home here.

Dr. Atwood returned to Kinzua Sunday from Eugene where he had been visiting his wife and granddaughter.

Joe Wodin, manager and owner of the roller skates, gave all the proceeds of Friday night's skating to the grade school to apply on the unpaid balance of the projector purchased last year.

Lyle Ostrander, Lester Halverson went to Heppner Saturday night to take a degree in the Royal Arch Masons. Clay Phillips and Harlan Schroeder also went.

Carl Coleman left the middle of the week for southern California where he plans to spend the winter. He visited his brother, A. B. and wife at Oroville. Mrs. Coleman plans to join him at San Diego soon after the new year. Carl Jr. will remain here to complete his year of high school.

Fred Shell and family moved to Fossil this week. He and Mrs. Delbert Folston leased the Coffee Cup restaurant and have it in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sasser and son came to Kinzua Wednesday from Eugene to visit his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sasser, The Harold Sassers are newly married, and were returning from their honeymoon in California.

Elvin Jones of Redmond came to Kinzua Thursday to spend Thanksgiving with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Wetmore. Upon arrival here, he found them away, so he spent the day with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Claud England.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shanafelt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shanafelt, all of Hermiston, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thorington and Bobby of Portland spent Thanksgiving with the Shanafelt boys' mother, Mrs. O. D. Baker. Mrs. Thorington is a daughter of Mrs. Baker.

Joan Adams was painfully injured Thursday evening when she was returning from Fossil where she and several other young people had been decorating a room for the carnival. The lights on the car went out and they ran into a car parked on the highway. Joan was cut about the face and under her chin, requiring seven stitches to close the wound, and her tongue was cut badly. She was given blood transfusion at Fossil. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Adams, and is a freshman in high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis of Bend were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Baker. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Baker are sisters. Mr. Lewis was first aid man at the hospital for several years.

Mrs. Kinard McDaniel returned to Kinzua Sunday after spending some time at Loneroch taking care of her grandson who has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark of Lewiston, Idaho, were visiting here with Ethel Mitchell and her son Lee Roy. Mrs. Clark and Ethel are sisters. They went from here to visit at Camas, Wash. Mrs. Mitchell and son accompanied them, returning Saturday evening.

Vern Perry went to The Dalles Sunday where he will undergo an operation on his elbow. Mr. Perry was injured at Camp 5 over a year ago.

The Kinzua and Fossil high school girls presented their one-act comedy play at Kinzua Monday evening, also a radio program that was written and broadcast by many of the high school boys and girls. The proceeds are for the junior-senior banquet.

Miss Lillian Schott spent Thanksgiving vacation at her home here from the U. of O. at Eugene. She returned to school Sunday afternoon.

Lewis Wetzel, pastor of the community church here, underwent an operation at The Dalles last Monday. He is expected to be home this week.

Jesslyn Phillips has been ill with the flu but has returned to work at the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore and children left Saturday to spend the week end with Mr. Moore's father, Emmet Moore near The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Galyean and daughter spent part of the past week in Los Angeles visiting and planned to visit Owen H. Leathers Jr., Norvin Adams and Keith Osborn, in the navy, stationed at San Diego, before returning home. Mr. Galyean is logging boss on Chapin creek near Hardman. Mrs. Galyean is employed at the KPM office.

Electric Tec. 3/G Fred Sargent from the USS Dixie at San Diego, Cal., was in Kinzua a short time visiting at the Harlan Adams home Saturday. He had been on leave visiting his mother, Mrs. S. Troxel at Pendleton. Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Troxel lived at Kinzua for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mathews of Bend were visiting Mrs. Math-

Top Honors to Oregon 4-H'ers

In recognition of their outstanding records in 1948 National 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstrations, Home Grounds Beautification, Leadership and Meat Animal programs, eight Oregon club members will receive awards of merit. The winners and brief outlines of their records follow:

Donna Wiederkehr, Richard L. Larkin, Joyce Kneal, Chester Hughson, Charlotte Smudia

For her work in club and community leadership, Donna Wiederkehr, 18, of Jefferson, has been named sectional winner in the 1948 National 4-H leadership program. For the last five years Donna has been leader of a local club in which cooking, canning, frozen foods, sewing and child-care projects were carried. She has given 48 demonstrations, mostly on canning, clothing and cooking. She also has given 408 talks in club, community and school meetings and over the radio. In addition she has written 1,915 news stories on 4-H meetings, tours, camps and special events. Donna received an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress provided by Edward Foss Wilson, Chicago meat packer.

Winner of a State award, Richard L. Larkin, 19, of Monroe, served for two years as president of his county 4-H Club, for four years as president of the county club, and for the past five years as leader of his local club which carried projects in sheep, hog and beef-cattle raising, and in forestry. He has made 64 4-H talks in club, community and school meetings, and over the radio. Richard receives a 17-jewel gold watch as a reward for his many leadership achievements.

Another State winner, Marjorie Zeller of Brockway, also won a gold watch.

What he learned about livestock raising, feeding, showing and marketing, has won Chester Hughson, 19, of Albany, recognition as the sectional winner in the 1948 National 4-H Meat Animal program. Chester now has a herd of 100 ewes, and this year fed and marketed 127 head of swine and raised two beef calves. He says: "I have found that it pays to raise good registered livestock." He has raised all his own grain to feed the livestock. Chester, in club work eight years, has much experience in judging livestock and has served as junior leader of his club for six years. As recognition of these achievements,

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

VETERINARIANS GIVE CALF VACCINATIONS

Several thousand beef calves in Lake, Morrow and Grant counties have been or will soon be vaccinated under the official state program for control of brucellosis. The work in these three counties, where no official county veterinarian is located, is being done by veterinarians of the state department of agriculture at the request of the respective county courts.

Dr. William Hayden spent the latter part of November in Morrow county in connection with this program. Dr. M. E. Loller is concluding vaccinations in Grant county this and next week, and when this work is completed around 2,500 to 3,000 calves on Grant county farms will have been vaccinated.

First vaccinations in Lake county will get under way December 14, reports M. E. Knickerbocker, chief of the department's division of animal husbandry. The initial round in Lake county will see vaccination of about 1200 calves. Dr. Hayden will handle the Lake county assignment.

OREGON FRUITS, NUTS CLEAR BORDER STATIONS

Oregon residents making holiday trips into California need have no hesitation in taking apples, pears and nuts to their friends and relatives there. This is the word from the Oregon department of agriculture, which advises that California border stations will pass these commodities. Of course, any commercial quantity of such commodities going into California must pass California standardization requirements.

But a bushel or so of apples, pears or nuts taken from Oregon or Washington into California by tourists will have clear sailing. No inspection in Oregon prior to loading them into the family car is necessary.

The department also issues its seasonal reminder that no inspection is necessary on holiday greenery packages—holly, mistletoe and similar greenery items—being shipped by Oregon families to relatives and friends in other states.

Club News

Newest 4-H club leader in Morrow county is Vernon Munkers, Lexington. Mr. Munkers was selected as leader by the Heppner-Lexington sheep club at their first meeting of the year. This was held at the Alex Hunt ranch on Sunday, November 28.

Officers of the club, elected at this meeting are: President, Skip Ruhl; vice-president, Sally Palmer; secretary, Joan Wilson, and reporter, Jean Marie Graham.

Their next meeting will be December 12 at the Cornett Green home in Heppner.

Livestock members are showing much interest in the Morrow County 4-H Livestock Mutual Aid association organized last year to give some protection from 4-H livestock death losses. Applications to date this club year have been received from the following club members: Rieta Graves, 2 steers; Betty Graves, 1 steer; Duane Graves, Ronald Baker, 3 steers and 2 ewes; Mardine Baker, 1 ewe.

Many more club members are expected to make application for protection of their club animals.

4-H club members starting fat animals on feed for the Eastern Oregon Wheat League 4-H show at The Dalles must keep in mind a few requirements of this show. First, all calves must be on feed by December 1. Rules of the wheat league show require that the grain rations fed to these ewes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dickson over Thanksgiving.
