

News From C. A. Office

Farmers who attended the John Deere Day program at Heppler on Tuesday of this week had the opportunity of seeing a film or two that showed some very good farm practices.

The film on improved pastures was especially good. Many of our Morrow county farmers could take a tip from this film in renovating old pastures and seeding to the new improved mixtures of legumes and grasses. We have mentioned in this column from time to time local experiences of farmers who have benefited greatly by the newer pasture seedings.

There are several grasses that make excellent pasture mixtures under irrigation or high rainfall. Among them is alta fescue, Manchurian smooth brome and orchard grass. Meadow foxtail is very good for wet or alkali land.

Crested wheat, bulbous blue and big bluestem are the grasses recommended for seeding under dryer conditions. Ladino or white dutch clover is used in these mixtures under irrigation where the water is plentiful. Ladak alfalfa will substitute as the legume where the irrigation water is limited or under 15 or more inches of rainfall.

50 ATTEND BOARDMAN MEET
Fifty homemakers attended the county-wide preliminary meeting for the cotton dress workshop held at Boardman Monday. Women from Lexington, Heppler, Ione, Irrigon and Boardman attended this all-day meeting.

Miss Mabel Wilson conducted the meeting in the absence of Lucy Lane, Oregon State college clothing specialist. A snow storm kept Miss Lane from getting to Boardman. Miss Wilson discussed dates for each community workshop, duties of the leaders, day by day procedures, pattern selection and materials available. Enrollees were allowed to select patterns and materials for their dresses to be made in this county-wide workshop.

16 SEW IN ZIPPERS
Sixteen different women set in concealed zippers last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ruth Umiker at Irrigon. With Miss Mabel Wilson conducting the meeting, 13 women made samples of a collarless neckline with a slash.

31 ATTEND MEET ON LOCKERS
Myron Cropsey, Oregon State college agricultural engineer, spoke to 31 Morrow county persons last Thursday evening at

4-H CLUB NEWS

Irrigon boys and girls are again offered the advantages of 4-H club work. Four clubs have been organized here this month by the two county agents.

Mrs. Ida Slaughter is the leader for 16 girls enrolled in the cooking project—breakfast clubs. Tuesday these girls chose as their officers the following:

Janet Stephens, president; Dixie Cosner, vice president, and Ruth Shade, secretary. The girls in this club are from 9-11 years of age and will meet this Saturday for their first lesson.

Mrs. Earl Isom leads a group of 12-14 year old girls in a cooking I project. These six girls will meet Monday to elect their officers.

the Lexington grange hall. He illustrated his talk with slides.

Mr. Cropsey stressed advantages and disadvantages of each type of freezer locker. He showed details of constructing satisfactory home built lockers. Many farmers asked specific questions concerning freezers.

Mrs. Lloyd Berger is leading 9 girls in a sewing project this year. These girls have had one lesson already.

Their officers are Kathleen Umiker, president; Barbara Tester, vice president, and Helen Steagall, secretary. This club meets Friday after school.

An agricultural club was organized with seven members carrying mixed livestock projects. This club is being led by Loyd Berger with Don Kenney and Loyd Cooley as assistants. Officers are Irvin Polly, president; Jim Kenney, vice president, and Gail Polly, secretary.

Now that club work is active again at Irrigon, surely parents and friends will not let it die this time. The boys and girls have the ability and interest to complete a successful year of 4-H work. Let's not dampen that enthusiasm in any 4-H club.

Mike Stalcup, Boardman, has just weaned a spotted Poland China pig and is now fattening it for the Oregon Wheat Growers League Fat Show and Sale to be held at The Dalles. This show, to be held on June 6, 7 and 8, will attract many exhibitors of sheep, pigs and beef from Morrow county 4-H members. Animals must be fattened on a ration which consists of at least 50 percent wheat.

The Heppler-Lexington Livestock club met at Tom Wilson's on Sunday, February 13.

The president, Skip Ruhl, called the meeting to order. The minutes of the last meetings were read by the secretary, Johanna Wilson. We learned more about our record books. The following boys and girls have calves and sheep:

Neil Beamer, beef calf and two breeding heifers; Jimmy Green, two beef calves; George Hermann, beef calf; Marilyn Munkers, two ewes; Roger Palmer, two heifers and one beef calf; Sally Palmer, two ewes; Skip Ruhl, beef calf; Jimmy Wightman, two beef calves; Marvin Wightman, beef calf; Peggy Wightman, four ewes and buck; and Johanne Wilson, 1 ewe. News About Town . . .
According to word received the first of the week, Henry Stender, 83, pioneer resident of Morrow county, passed away at his home in Salem Monday. Funeral services were held in that city on Wednesday. Mr. Stender farmed for many years in the section north of Ione, retiring to Heppler in the early 1920's. Some fifteen years ago the family moved to Salem where they have resided since. He is survived by two sons, Roy and Warren, and two daughters, Anne Stender and Mrs. Max Muller (Flossie) and four grandchildren, all of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright are the parents of a son, born February 14 at the Riverside hospital in Pendleton. This is the Wright's second son.

Mrs. Robert Thompson entertained the missionary society of the First Church of Christ at her home on Church street Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Clive Huston was discussion leader and Mrs. Ben Anderson was in charge of the devotionals. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Lt. and Mrs. Jack Everett visited briefly in Heppler Monday evening with Mrs. Fay Bucknum.

Lt. Everett has been transferred from Spokane, Wash., to Merced, Cal., and he and Mrs. Everett were enroute to their new location. Lt. Everett is the brother of Mrs. C. W. Bucknum.
