Your Children Will Benefit from 4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

"BETTER LIVING FOR A BETTER WORLD" "Better Living for a Better World" is the theme for the 1949 National 4-H Club week which will be observed during March 5-13. This week, which is observed annually, is the time set aside to call to the attention of all the accomplishments of the 4-H club program. 4-H club members, leaders and persons interested in this national youth movement are to be recognized for their efforts. The general public is to be adequately informed, especially on a nation-wide basis, on the far reaching importance of 4-H clubs. In summing up the part that Morrow county is playing in this largest rural youth organization of the world, we find that 17 clubs covering all communities in the county have enrolled 144 different club members. Many of these boys and girls are carrying more than one project and may be enrolled in two or more clubs. These club members added to all members in Oregon and to the other states, as well as Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, make a total of nearly 2,000,000 boys and girls enrolled.

Morrow county 4-H members and leaders are planning many activities during the week March 5-13 to contribute their share to observance of National 4-H Club week. The annual observance of the week starts on Saturday, March 5. The majority of Morrow county clubs will hold meetings during the week. Special opportunity will be given for new members to enroll. Special plans for the week are window displays in all towns in the county. These displays will center around the motto, "Learn to do by doing" and will show samples of project work completed by members. On Monday, March 7, 4-H leader, Mrs. L. A. McCabe, and two of her 4-H members, Ruby Ann Rietmann and Ingrid Hermann, will appear on the program at the chamber of commerce luncheon. On Thursday, March 10, all 4-H leaders in the county will meet at Heppner for their annual 4-H leaders' training meeting. Esther Taskerud and Burton Hutton, state 4-H club agents, will be present for this training meeting and will then attend the Ione P-TA meeting to appear on the program. The program for the evening will be put on by 4-H club members. Ending the week of activities will be a National 4-H Club week party at Boardman with all Boardman and Irrigon club members, leaders and parents invited to attend.

So great is the importance of National 4-H Club week in observing the accomplishments of our youth enrolled in this organization, that President Truman, Governor Douglas McKay and Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan have joined in greeting 4-H members and leaders in recognition of the work they are doing. Nation-wide 4-H radio broadcasts will be featured when Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will broadcast his own 4-H Club song, "Place in the Sun," on NBC Thursday, March 10, 7:30 to 8 p. m. P.S.T. Ted Malone will feature a special broadcast honoring M. L. Wilson, director extension service, on ABC on Monday, March 7, 1 to 1:15 p.m., P.S.T. This, then, is National 4-H Club week for the nearly two million boys and girls who are members of this fine organization. To be identified with a 4-H club is a badge of distinction, borne by more than 26,000 different Oregon boys and girls last year. It is during this week that those boys and girls are inviting many others to enjoy the advantages of 4-H club membership. Adults who are concerned for the future of the generation can do no better service than that of encouraging and assisting the movement by giving leadership and support, making greater participation possible.

ONE ROOM IMPROVEMENT PROJECT Only one Morrow county 4-H club member is carrying a room improvement project. Lorene Mitchell, Heppner, along with Miss Wilson, is developing a third year special project on closets or storage space to fit her family's needs. The emphasis will be placed on analyzing present situation, needs, and making actual changes to allow more convenience and use of space with a minimum of expense. Every home cannot be richly furnished but it can reflect good taste, says Miss Wilson, home demonstration agent. As an added incentive toward this goal, the Sears-Roebuck foundation is again providing merit awards amounting to nearly $10,000. Lorene is also carrying a cooking project. Meeting at the county agent's office last Monday night, Feb. 28, the 4-H club council made plans for observing National 4-H Club week March 5-13. Among plans for observance of the week were window displays in Heppner, Ione and Lexington. In charge of these displays are Mrs. O. B. Breeding and Mrs. John Graves, Lexington; Mrs. Lucy Rodgers and Mrs. Gene Ferguson, Heppner; Mrs. Garland Swanson and Mrs. Verner Troedson, Ione. Announced at this meeting was the Ione P-TA which will be held Thursday evening, March 10. The program will be put on by 4-H

SEIWNIG FOR CHILDREN Home dressmaking has been increasing ever since the war, but until recently much of it has been in women's clothing. Now apparently mothers are finding that they can make substantial savings by sewing for their children as well as themselves. The extension service reports that high prices plus the problem of getting unsatisfactory quality in children's ready-made clothes have been giving mothers so much concern that almost every state held special meetings during the past year on selection of children's wear. Stores have reported recently that from 20 to 50 percent of their total pattern sales are for children's clothes. The children as well as the family pocketbook benefit if mothers choose patterns and fabrics suited especially to children's needs. Clothes which are roomy yet well fitted allow for comfort and free movement of young children at their most active age. Clothes have a pronounced effect on health and habit formation of infants and pre-school children especially. Clothes designed to make it easy for children to dress themselves encourage initiative, self-reliance, and skill early in life. Loosely styled garments are not ripped, torn, discarded and outgrown as soon as those with a tight fit, thus are more comfortable and economical.

HOMEMAKERS REMINDED OF DATES March 11, 18, 29 are important dates to Cotton Dress Workshop leaders in each community. Those are the days when they will meet at the Ione Grange hall to receive training in constructing a dress which they will later pass on to their fellow unit members in each community. Each woman enrolled will make and complete a cotton dress using new, improved methods. Lucy Lane and Myrtle Carter, clothing specialists from OSC, will conduct the leader training meetings at Ione.
