Lexington School Presents Diplomas To Two Classes

By Delpha Jones

Eighth grade awards, the cup for scholarship which has not been presented for 12 years, was given Shirley Ann Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunt. Oris Padberg presented the 8th grade graduates with their diplomas and Max Breeding received an athletic award. High school awards came next with these being presented by Mr. Feathers. The highest music award for the year was presented to Jo Irvin, as was the scholarship award, to be inscribed with Franklin's name for scholarship and Jo's for citizenship. Franklin received the Beach citizenship cup. The award given to the high school student showing the most school spirit was given to Dorothy Lourey. She is from Prineville, and makes her home with her sister and family, the Bill Van Winkles. Oris Padberg presented the high school class with diplomas. Benediction by Rev. Cantrell and recessional by Mrs. Carmichael closed the program. Franklin Messenger and Jo Irvin comprised the class of 1949.

It has been brought to this reporter's attention that Harding Smith, son of Mrs. Mary Smith of Seattle, and Ernest Smith of Portland, was one of Lillian C. Turner's students and lost his life in World War II. Harding served in the U. S. navy. He had one brother, Virgil, who makes his home with his mother in Seattle.

Commencement exercises were held Friday evening in the school auditorium, with the following program: Processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," Mrs. C. Z. Carmichael; invocation, Rev. C. Franklin Cantrell; Duet, "The Lord Had Given Me a Song," Beverly and Phyllis Nolan; solo, "A Shady Tree," Franklin Messenger; address by Jo Irvin, senior class president; senior class history, Jo Irvin; senior class will, Franklin Messenger; solo, "Be the Best of Whatever You Are," Betty Griffin. Senior class optimist, Franklin Messenger. Commencement address, "My Future Hereitage," Dr. Floyd C. Hill of Eastern Oregon College of Education. The class motto was "Well done is better than well said." Class color, crimson; class flower, gardenia. The high school wore caps and gowns, the gowns being all white and the caps the same with white tassels tied with red ribbon. Eighth grade graduates were Shirley Hunt, Henry Maxwell and Scott Denward McMillan. Motto: Wise men lay up knowledge. Colors, yellow and white, and flower, timberlily.
