Heppner Firemen Thanked By Ione For Aid At Blaze

The following letter, dated July 7, was recently received by Heppner's city recorder: Heppner Fire Department Heppner, Oregon Dear Friends:

On behalf of the people of Ione I want to extend to you our sincere thanks for the valuable assistance given at the time of the fire which destroyed our city hall. It was through the assistance of our neighboring towns that most of Ione perhaps was kept from going up in flames.

Again thanking the fire department for the help given, we are, Very sincerely thankful, THE CITIZENS OF IONE By GEORGE N. ELY, City Recorder

CARD OF THANKS We are everlastingly grateful to the men who worked so hard and diligently to save our property from burning by Monday evening's fire. Words seem rather empty but we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. THE A. L. CASEBEER FAMILY

CARD OF THANKS Our sincere thanks to all those wonderful people who saved our home and buildings from burning on Monday. There were many whom we know and some whose names we do not even know, but to all, we are deeply grateful. THE GEORGES Elaine, Oscar, Kit, David

CARD OF THANKS I wish to thank the many persons who helped prevent my home from burning during the fire last Monday. FRED W. LENZ

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank the fire department and our neighbors for their assistance in putting out the fire at our home last week. Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson

Heppner Soil And Flood Control Interests Inspectors

The range around Heppner attracted a great deal of attention from an inspection party that arrived unexpectedly Monday to gather data for a soil stability analysis of Umatilla national forest. Forester Glenn Parsons said Tuesday that the two inspectors, Bill Bullard, of Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment station, and Walter Schipull, of the Forest service's Washington office, were so interested in soil loss and flood control in the Heppner area that they made a complete tour of hills around the city. The men did not comment on their tour, but Parsons said their recommendations eventually will be sent to his office.

Carl Ewing, supervisor of Umatilla national forest, and John Clouston, range conservationist, inspected the foresters' range and wildlife, and fire control activities while on a five-day tour of Umatilla forest last week.

It's BAD LUCK... to throw a lighted cigarette from your car ... yet some thoughtless people do it. They bring bad luck to themselves, their friends and their communities. For one carelessly tossed cigarette can start a fire in the woods. The bad luck in a lighted cigarette carelessly dropped can wipe out valuable forests, burn trees that have been years growing to useful size, destroy lives and property. Don't take a chance! Use your ashtray. Remember! It's bad luck to throw a lighted cigarette from your car. KINZUA PINE MILLS CO.
