JANUARY 1, 1950 DEADLINE FOR NSLI INSURANCE

World War II veterans with service-incurred disabilities were reminded to day of an important deadline in connection with their entitlement to National Service Life Insurance by Charles M. Cox, local veterans administration representative.

Prior to January 1, 1950, such disabilities actually incurred in service between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945, if less than total in degree, are disregarded in determining eligibility under the health requirements for NSLI purposes.

This means that veterans who might not otherwise qualify for life insurance for health reasons may reinstate lapsed NSLI or buy new or additional insurance up to the $10,000 maximum if they apply before the end of the year. A physical examination is required, however, for all insurance applied for under this special provision, Cox said.

Why this isn't your 1950 model car

This gasoline buggy, now safely tucked away in dusty photograph albums, was quite a car in its day. It buzzed along at 20 miles an hour, had a jaunty, rakish air, and the people who could afford to buy one thought it was perfectly wonderful.

In fact, it was so good it might still be the car you drive but for one reason. Competition. Healthy competition among both automotive and oil companies that resulted in constantly better, lower-cost automobiles and steadily improved oils and gasolines.

For one example: Here at Standard of California, we've pioneered literally thousands of improvements in gasolines, motor oils and other petroleum products since the days of the horseless carriage. Those you use in your car today are unsurpassed anywhere. The world's first service station built by Standard in 1907 has grown, including outlets of all companies, to a network of more than a quarter of a million stations across the country.

This progress, spurred by competition, will not stop. Just since the war, we've spent more than $450,000,000 in plants and facilities to serve you better.
