

News From C. A. Office

With the new 4-H club year beginning November 1, club members have been busy in recent weeks getting projects lined up for the new year. Fourteen feeder steers are now on feed, most of these to be fed out for the Oregon Wheatgrowers League 4-H fat show and sale held in The Dalles in June. Other club members are selecting calves and breeding projects as fast as good quality animals become available.

During the last week or so Janet and John Howton, Ione, have purchased calves. John bought his Angus calf from Jim Nelson at Pilot Rock, while Janet selected her Hereford from the Bill Smethurst herd. George Hermann, Lexington, also selected a Hereford from the Smethurst herd. Duane Baker, Ione, selected a Hereford from the Evans Brothers herd.

In the sheep breeding projects some new additions have also been made. Biggest addition is eight Columbia ewe lambs and a Columbia ram purchased by Ronald Baker, Ione. These were purchased from R. E. Brown, Bozeman, Mont., the first of the Columbia breed to be brought into Morrow county. Ronald also purchased a Southdown ram to head his flock of Southdowns some weeks ago. Joanne Wilson has added two Targhee ewes to her small flock purchased from Steve Thompson, Heppner. Jim Wightman is now in the registered Hampshire sheep business along with his sister, Peggy, after purchasing two Hampshire ewe lambs from the John Ransier flock. Joanne Brosnan, who is a first year club member, is winner of the Eb Hughes sheep award, a purebred Hampshire ewe that is passed along each year to a worthy sheep club member. She took possession of this ewe some time ago.

Adding to purebred beef breeding projects were Reija and Dean Graves who each purchased a Shorthorn heifer from the T.V. ranch last week.

A new project has been added to 4-H club work. The project is tractor maintenance which consists of a series of lessons on maintenance and minor adjustments of tractors and the periodic servicing of a tractor. Club members carrying the project must be at least 12 years of age and preferably 14.

The project is being sponsored by the General Petroleum Corporation which is furnishing the manuals, record books, leader's manuals, program guides and other materials for club members and leaders. GPC is also paying the expenses of one leader from each county to attend a three day training clinic at Oregon State college. Dick Wightman will attend the clinic from Morrow county. Boys interested in the project should contact Mr. Wightman or this office.

Word has been received from Swift & Co. who purchased fat steers from Duane Baker and Jimmy Green at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition that the carcasses of the calves graded prime when slaughtered.

Both of these calves were Shorthorns purchased from the Sherman-Ferguson herd last fall. The calf sold by Jimmy Green has a dressing percent of 63.9, and the steer sold by Duane Baker a dressing percent of 64.7.

Michael Staleup, Boardman, has recently purchased a Hereford yearling heifer from the Double M Hereford ranch at Adams. This fine heifer will be added to Mike's many other 4-H club projects. He also has an addition of 15 registered spotted Poland China pigs from two of his 4-H project sows.

Club members purchasing feeder calves for projects the past week were Marie Potts, Boardman, and Herbert Ekstrom, Ione, who secured calves from the John Graves herd. Skip Ruhl, Lexington, picked a Hereford steer and heifer for 4-H fat and breeding projects from the Ruhl herd.

Ronald and Duane Baker, Ione 4-H club members, have again added some outstanding Shorthorn breeding stock to their 4-H project. They were purchasers at the recent Shorthorn sale and show at Spokane. The boys purchased one bred and two open heifers and one of the better bulls consigned to the show and sale.

National 4-H Achievement week, November 5-13, is observed to emphasize the 4-H opportunities afforded rural young people and encourage those not yet enrolled to join in keeping with enrollment goals set.

Don't forget the organization meeting for all livestock clubs which will be held at the recreation center in Heppner, Sunday afternoon, November 6. All old club members should bring a friend or two who are interested in joining a 4-H club. Clubs will be organized as to project officers elected and leaders selected. We'll see you all November 6 at 2 p. m.

EXTENSIVE REMODELING

has been undertaken at the George Currins, Walter Wrights, and Walter Jepsens. This indicates that alert homemakers want efficient and comfortable homes for their families and are willing to do a lot of hard work to get them.

TURKEY BULLETIN

Since poultry, especially turkey, is one of the more economical foods in October, a timely bulletin is the USDA No. 2100, "Turkey on the Table the Year Round."

Complete with 40 pictures, it offers methods of cutting turkeys for halves, fourths, steaks, various turkey parts as well as cooling suggestions. Three pages of recipes are given. Call or write the Home Demonstration Agent, Heppner.

RENOVATING FOR GARMENTS?

Methods of cleaning, softening, pelts, dyeing, glazing, cutting, sewing and fitting are available at the HDA's office in Heppner.

IONE NEWS . . .

The youngsters enjoyed their usual trick or treat stunts Monday night.

Mrs Cecil Thorne returned last week from Oakesdale Wash. where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, Lake Eagle. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Eagle and son John Charles returned home with her.

The American Legion auxiliary met in their hall Tuesday afternoon. Gifts were brought for the Veteran hospital gift shop. All gifts must be at the Nov. 15 meeting. Plans were made for a card party Nov. 18. A recent food sale netted $34.86.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens of Dayton, Ore. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bengel, in the move to the ranch on Social Ridge where they will make their home. Mrs. Stevens is Mrs. Bengel's sister and resided in Heppner many years ago. Other guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bengel last week were Mrs. Nellie Willis of Portland and Mrs. Mary Baird of Newberg, sisters of Mrs. Bengel.

Stanley Minor returned home Tuesday afternoon from St. Anthony's hospital where he has been receiving treatment for injuries sustained in a fall recently. Charles Barlow went over after him.

In China and Japan, windows are usually covered with paper, cloth or shell.

MIMEOS FROM HDA DESK

Housins and Lighting

Many families are acutely interested in good lighting and arrangement of convenient outlets. Now that several farm families have received notices stating they will get "juice" soon, they are asking for help in selection of adequate lamps. The L. A. McCabes of Ione is one of those families wanting the best in lighting.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Becket and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Becket spent Tuesday in Pendleton. Ray Drake and son Douglas, Earl and Len Gilliam are on their annual elk hunt in the John Day country. This is the 15th consecutive year that this party has hunted elk together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Couer d'Alene, Ida. are the parents of a 7-pound son born October 31 in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor of Heppner are grand parents and L. W. Briggs is the great grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Donnell Sr. returned Tuesday evening from a month's vacation trip which took them to various places in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Le Grand departed Wednesday for their home in Grants Pass after spending several days here elk hunting. During their visit to Heppner they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Scoufen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker of Bend are spending several days here during which time he is hunting elk. Mr. Parker was at one time in the local forestry office.

John Bergstrom, Mrs. R. D. Allstott Jr., Gerald and Marilyn Bergstrom made a business trip to Walla Walla, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson returned the last of the week from Baker where they spent a week's vacation with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Coxen have returned to The Dalles after several idays visit to Heppner friends and relatives. During their stay Mr. Coxen did some elk hunting. James Boland was up from The Dalles the first of the week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bri Howell.

Harry Wright of Beaverton and E. H. French of Forest Grove, former Heppner residents are hunting elk in this vicinity and stopped briefly in Heppner Tuesday evening to visit friends. They have just returned from Canada where they hunted moose.

Lexington Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Rands spent the week-end in Portland.

Mrs. Henry Rauch was hostess to a surprise party for Mrs. Ernestine Majske at the home of Mrs. Alex Hunt Sunday. Mrs. Majske, who has been ill for several days, is reported much improved at the present. The occasion was the honoree's 82nd birthday. Refreshments were served and the evening was spent visiting.

The Lexington high school chorus plans to give a program Wednesday, November 9, during education week. The theme of the program will be "Building One World." The songs will be in school.
