Flood And Fire Add Zest To Living In 1949

To most of our readers, these pictures will not be new, but they have a chronological value and are reproduced to recall the two most exciting events in Heppner during the year of 1949. Melting snow and thawing ground caused a freshet that resolved into a flood on February 18. Perhaps the most excitement and the biggest scare came when the elevators in the north part of town burned to the ground on July 18. The loss amounted to more than $600,000. One of the elevators, the Morrow County Grain Growers, is being placed by one of the most modern elevators in the northwest.
