The parts of animals were studied at the South Heppner Livestock club May 7. It was held at Patsy Wright's home. Two new members have joined in the past two months they are Shirley and Patsy Peck. The feeding of dairy calves was discussed among dairy members, and after the meeting was adjourned Patsy Wright's calf was looked at.

The 4-H events of the past week that should be of interest to all club members were the 4-H and F.F.A. Spring Livestock show of May 20; and the "Earth turning" services on May 21, for the 4-H building at Boardman. All livestock members took part in the livestock show which consisted of fitting, preparation, showmanship and judging. Dairy, beef, hogs, sheep rabbit and poultry were shown. High point exhibitor of the day was Nancy Hoadley of Irrigon.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, the father of all men, and Masons, to call from our lodge our beloved brother, Leon W. Briggs, who for many years was a prominent and respected citizen of Heppner and a worthy Brother and member of Heppner Lodge No. 69, A. F. & A. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Warren and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ruggles were in Portland on business over the week end. They returned Tuesday night. The Ruggles spent Wednesday in clearing their desks and departed Thursday morning for Corvallis where Mr. Ruggles will join other candidates for initiation into the Elks lodge at the state convention this week-end.

The J. J. O'Connor family left this morning for Corvallis to attend the Elks convention. O'Connor is exalted ruler of the Heppner lodge.

member. Club members and leaders put on a program with county agent N. C. Anderson giving the dedication talk. Rev. Howley led the group in prayer, closing the dedication services. Work on the building will begin at once with hopes for having it completed by fall time.
