

Republicans Meet And Organize For Coming Campaign

Realizing that work will be needed in the forthcoming state election, Chairman George N. Ely of Ione called a meeting of committeemen and committeewomen, as well as interested party members, at the Elkhorn restaurant Monday evening and effected an organization to carry on party activity during the campaign.

Mr. Ely had hoped that he might be relieved of the job as chairman but could not convince other members of the group that they should elect someone in his place. In the election that followed discussion relative to organization, he was re-elected to the post. Mrs. Bradley Fancher was chosen as vice-chairman; Mrs. Omar Rietmann as secretary, and Omar Rietmann as treasurer. Monday evening, July 10 was chosen as the date of the next meeting with the Elkhorn as the meeting place, at which time the chairman will make his committee assignments.

Because of harvest activities and other matters claiming the attention of the people it was decided to defer active campaign work until the first of September.

Several of those present expressed their views relative to the state campaign, stressing the need for work in behalf of the Republican nominees for governor and congress.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

A communication from Owen Maris of Portland conveyed information of the death of Glenn Willingham in that city on June 20. Mr. Maris, himself a former resident of Heppner, learned that the mortuary having charge of the body could give little information except that the deceased was born in Heppner and that he was 66 years old.

Willingham is quite well remembered here by some of the older generation. Mr. Maris recalled that he went to school with him and believed Lou Bisbee and Orve Rasmus were others

The new telephones put in daily mean more value for all. You can reach more people... more can reach you.

HE'S MAKING YOUR TELEPHONE A BETTER BARGAIN

How your service grows more useful as we add new telephones

1. In the ten busiest years we ever had, the West's population jumped more than fifty per cent. Telephone service grew even faster... the number of telephones at work in the West has doubled. And we built this new system in the face of inflated postwar costs... for we can't, in contrast with most businesses, defer the addition of plant just because the cost is high.

2. You may never call this particular telephone... but it's pretty certain you will want to call or hear from some of the telephones we're adding. As the West grows, new people come into your town... others move their homes and businesses... so it is necessary for us to do our best to keep pace with the growth of your community to make sure you can call whom you want, when you want.

3. As a part of a bigger system, your telephone is a bigger value today... particularly when you consider the low rates you pay for service. Long distance telephone rates actually decreased between 1940 and 1946. And, while the increases in local and long distance rates since 1946 vary, the average for the territory we serve has been only 27 per cent. Your telephone still gives you a big value for your budget dollar. It's one of today's best bargains.
