1910 FORTY YEARS AGO most kitchen ranges were fired with wood. They overheated the kitchen and demanded constant attention. Electric ranges were being developed, but the electricity to run them was costly and seldom dependable.

1950 TODAY'S KITCHEN is clean, cool, comfortable, thanks to cheap, convenient electricity. In 40 years since Pacific Power & Light was organized, housekeeping drudgery has practically disappeared. Progress like this is the result of the good American system of business enterprise.
