His Popularity Increases

Heppner today has the honor of entertaining for a few hours the state's chief executive, Governor Douglas McKay. Since his appearance here comes on publication day and this page is usually one of the first printed, discussion relative to what he may have to say must be deferred to a later issue. It is pertinent to remark that his comments at the Sceptic luncheon will have no bearing on his own candidacy, although he could with pardonable pride point to his achievements during the brief time he has been in office.

Few men in public office have grown more in stature, politically, and displayed more efficiency in handling the business of government than has Oregon's governor. His policy of "pay as you go," as far as it has had a chance to work in his short term, has an appeal to the masses that will be manifested when the votes are counted. Mr. McKay's friendly manner and straightforward dealing with issues are making him more popular with the people every day.

There's A War On

Here's another bit of wisdom from Ed Erard's column in the Kingsville (Texas) Record (Non-Part.):

We are still at war with Germany and Japan, technically, that is. And we are getting along fine with the German and the Japanese people.

We are at peace with Soviet Russia but Russian tanks and guns are killing our boys in Korea in, as yet, unrevealed numbers. It looks like our "enemies" are about the only friends we got left.

Getting men killed in action every day without a war being on makes sense like washing your feet with your sox on.

Casualty lists and tax-hikes are part of war, so is rationing, priorities and all of those disagreeable things. And Harry's having a tough time trying to make 'em be quiet until after November elections.

If you don't think there's a war-on right now, listen to Bob Taft. He wants to hike all taxes right now to assure the security of the nation. And when Bob's for more taxes, he's scared, brother, he's scared. And he's not exactly a fraidy-cat either.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Patterson and daughter Mary left Tuesday morning for Portland where they plan to locate permanently.

MORNING CEREMONY UNITES YOUNG COUPLE IN MARRIAGE AT CONDON

At a mid-morning ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic church in Condon on August 19, Judith Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dick Keyes of Fossil, became the bride of James Patrick Kenny. The ceremony was performed by Father Philip Growney with Rev. Francis McCormack assisting.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown with full train and a yoke of Chantilly lace edged with flowers embroidered with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was an heirloom pendant of tear drop pearls and diamonds fashioned in the shape of a rose.

The finger-tip veil of silk illusion was held with a Juliet cap of satin edged with tulle and seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white net, white gladioli, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Mrs. Robert Williams of Fossil, matron of honor for her sister, wore a floor length gown of dull gold taffeta. Her bouquet was fashioned of flesh and mustard gladioli and ivy and she wore a matching headdress of net and flowers.

The other attendants, Miss Evelyn Taylor of Haines and Mrs. Charles Irwin of Pendleton, were dressed identical to the honor attendant in peacock blue and carried flesh and fuchsia gladioli and ivy.

Ann Williams was flower girl for her aunt and wore a white nylon net dress caught with forget-me-nots over a whoop skirt of organdy and carried a blue basket of old fashioned flowers.

William Kenny was best man for his brother and William Keyes of Portland, brother of the bride and Emmett Kenny were ushers.

Helen Mateer sang Ave Maria during the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a fuchsia dress with black accessories and the mother of the groom was dressed in a navy with white accessories.

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held on the church lawn. The three tiered wedding cake was cut by Mrs. William Richards, sister of the groom, and Mrs. William Keyes presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Dean Guyton and Miss Bonnie Mortimore of Fossil assisted in serving. Miss Mary Ellen Keyes was in charge of the guest book, an autographed album presented to the grandmother of the bride 50 years ago by her father, the Rev. Robert R. Booth, one of Oregon's first circuit riders.

For going away, the bride wore a grayed beige jersey dress trimmed in red fox fur, with black velvet accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses. After their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Fossil.

Superintendent Of Ione Schools Calls For Registration

The office of the Ione schools will be open beginning Monday, August 28. Mr. Osibov, superintendent, urges all high school students to contact him to arrange classes and schedules. High school books for most courses are now available to those who wish to purchase them. Parents, and all patrons of the district are welcome to consult with the new administrator about any educational matters.

Russel De Bondt, Ione athletic director, requests a turnout of all boys interested in football. He will meet them at 3 p. m. Monday. He wants to get medical checkups and organizational matters completed so he can begin practice on September 1.

WORD OF APPRECIATION

We wish to commend and thank each member of the Heppner fire department for his prompt action in helping to extinguish the fire Saturday morning. —Hotel Heppner.
