News from C. A. Office

4-H club leaders and members are busy preparing for both of the county fairs. Projects are being completed and record books brought up to date in order to exhibit, according to Maud Casswell, county extension agent in home economics. The county agent has assisted several club meetings. BOARDMAN: Home-making club I met at the home of Mrs. Blanch Fussell, August 9. The meeting started with a potluck lunch. All the members present worked on their projects. Mrs. Fussell and members worked out plans for the club booth at the fair. Members present were

Nancy Califf, Carolyn Barham, Sharon Fussell, Lorna Shannon, Irene Archer and Wanda Hug.

LEXINGTON: The Six Little Sewers clothing club met at the home of Mrs. Randall Martin, August 11. 4-H members worked on clothing finishing problems such as zippers, yokes, sleeves and embroidering detail. After the meeting refreshments were served while Mrs. John Graves showed colored slides taken prior to and during the fair last year. Several slides were included showing farming activity on the Graves farm and the 4-H tour in Morrow county.

4-H girls Phyllis Nolan, Shirley Hunt, Joan Breeding, Janice Martin, Marilyn Munkers, Patricia Steagall, Donna Robinson, Glenna Griffith, Yvonne Breeding were present at the meeting. Guests were Mrs. Doris Graves, Mrs. Millard Nolan and Mrs. Randall Martin.

Demonstration teams for the 4-H Ginger Snaps club met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Jones August 9 to plan and practice demonstrations for the county fair.

Mrs. Casswell, because Mrs. Oscar Breeding, 4-H club leader could not be present, assisted the members with the method used in presenting a demonstration. The demonstrations will be on laundry, cleaning silver and making health salad. They plan to meet to practice demonstrations August 15 at Mrs. C. C. Jones' residence in Lexington.

Club members present were Phyllis Nolan, Betty Lou Messenger, Joan Breeding, and Dona Robinson. Carma Barlow was a guest.

EIGHT MILE: The Busy Stitches 4-H Clothing club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Wright August 14. The business meeting included the filling out of detail 4-H records and writing of 4-H club story. Mrs. Wright, 4-H club leader, assisted the club members with plans and design for the club booth at the fair. All projects and record books are to be turned in September 4 to Mrs. Wright. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Members present were Sally Palmer, president; Patsy Wright, vice president; Billy Jean Privett, secretary; Sharon Hill, Janet Wright and June Privett. Guests were Mrs. L. Hill, Mrs. C. H. Privett and Mrs. Elmer Palmer.

HEPPNER: Members of the Heppner 4-H Child Care club met at the home of Mrs. Jack Loyd, leader, August 11. Each girl explained the type of toys she was planning to exhibit at the county fair. Mrs. Loyd asked that each member bring the two toys and record books to her residence before fair time. Members present were Reita Graves, Sharon Beckett, Mary Ruth Green, Clarice Hastings and Kay Valentine.

IONE: Congratulations to the lone 4-H club members led by Mrs. E. M. Baker. They have sent in the following news for the paper:

"We 'Singing Sewers' 4-H club met at the home of Billie Seehafer Friday, August 4. All members finished projects and completed record books. They have announced that this is their final meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Seehafer and Billie.

The Future Knitters of Heppner 4-H club met Friday, August 18 at the home of Mrs. Gene Ferguson. The girls were working on projects finishing them for the Morrow county fair. Some of the articles to be exhibited are cable stitch mittens, scarves, anklets and baby sweaters. Mrs. Maud Casswell, home demonstration agent attended the meeting. Two of the girls will give a demonstration.

The Child Care 4-H club members of Irrigon met Thursday, August 17 in the cafeteria. Each member displayed the toys made for the project.

Record books were discussed. Each member will take record books and two toys to Mrs. Shade Saturday, August 19 for the fair. Maud Casswell assisted the club members and Mrs. Louis Shade, leader, in planning 4-H booths for the fair at Boardman. A potluck lunch was served by the club members.

Members present were Sylvia Boylan, Vyanna Boylan, Dorothy Hinkley, Ruth Shade, Janet Stephens and Carmen Wilson.

The Cooking II club led by Mrs. Ida Slaughter, met at 2 p. m. Thursday at the school. Three teams presented demonstrations. 4-H club leaders and Maud Casswell, county extension agent, assisted them with suggestions to improve the demonstrations. A standard demonstration must have an introduction, body and conclusion.

Janet Stephens and Sylvia Boylan demonstrated sponge cake. Carla Hill and Ruth Shade selected vegetable salad, while Carmen Wilson and Nancy Graybeal demonstrated the making of nut bread.

Mrs. L. C. Hill, 4-H leader was a guest.
