4-H CLUB NEWS

Livestock club members are busy selecting feeder steers for fat beef projects with several club members having their steers spoken for and are waiting for the calves to be weaned.

Members feeding calves are Ronald Baker, Ione, two Shorthorns from the R. B. Ferguson ranch; Duane Baker, Ione, one Shorthorn from his own herd, one Shorthorn from the Howard Cleveland ranch; Janet Howton, Ione, one Shorthorn from the Howard Cleveland ranch, one Hereford scramble calf donated by Earl Evans; Judy Howton, Ione, one Shorthorn from the Cleveland ranch; Shirley Peck, Heppner, one Hereford Angus cross donated by Don Greenup; Jimmy Hayes, Heppner, one Hereford from the Harold Wright ranch; Malcolm McKinney, Ione, one Hereford from the Emert ranch, one Hereford caught in scramble donated by Slim Emert; Richard and Herbert Ekstrom, Ione, each one Hereford steer from the Slim Emert ranch.

Calves are difficult to find this year and much time has been spent in locating the good quality steers that 4-H clubbers select to feed out.

Four of the calves on feed now are to go to the Oregon Wheat-growers League show and sale in June with the remainder being fed for the county fair.

When all members have calves they intend to carry as projects on feed, it is expected there will be 29 fat beef projects. This compares to 25 this past club year.

Herbert and Richard Ekstrom, Ione, are busy these days putting finishing touches to their two registered Hereford bulls that are entered in the fifth annual Midco Hereford Assn. show and sale to be held at Moro November 2 and 3. These two bulls, raised as 4-H projects, are to be sold with 31 other Hereford bulls consigned by Oregon and Washington breeders.

The meeting of the Jr. Stockmen's 4-H came to order at Vern Nolan's October 8. President Jim Wightman led in the club pledge and Jean Marie Graham read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mr. Munkers checked our record books and then collected them. This is the last meeting of the 4-H club year.

Meeting was adjourned and refreshments served. Johanne Wilson, Reporter.

Visiting Hours At Hospital Stressed

Some misunderstanding has prevailed relative to visiting hours at the Pioneer Memorial hospital and this has been embarrassing to both the management and to visitors.

Two periods have been set aside for visiting. Calls may be made between 3 and 4 p. m. and between 7 and 8:30 p. m. It is not the purpose of the management to keep anyone from visiting patients but in order to facilitate the work it is necessary to place restrictions as to time. Manager George Wadill urges cooperation of the public and gives assurance that the hospital staff will do its part.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our thanks for the many flowers, letters and cards sent our brother in his last illness, and for every kindness shown him through the years. The family of W. A. Hayes
