Former Monument In Car Accident

The Monument Community was saddened this week when word was received of the sudden death of Mrs. Leola Robertson on Friday. She and her two children were going from Pendleton to Mt. Vernon to spend the week end with her husband, Louis Robertson. Her car went out of control when she struck icy roads on Camas Creek. She and her small son were pinned under the car when it turned over into Camas Creek. Mrs. Robertson was killed instantly. Her daughter was thrown clear of the car. Help soon came to help rescue the mother and brother from the icy water. Mrs. Robertson will be remembered as Leola Cork. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and two children, also her mother, Mrs. Mabel Cork of Bend and three sisters, Mrs. Merrill Jones, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Alice Johnson of Bend, one sister, Marjorie Hunington of Fossil and three brothers, Roy and Harold Cork of Monument and Bob Cork.

Grange Hall last Wednesday for their regular meeting. The same officers were reelected for another year; Lydia Capon chairman and Reta Cupper, secretary.

Willard Gilman left Sunday to meet his wife, who recently underwent a tonsilectomy at Baker. They returned driving a new Jeep pickup.

OREGON WOODS CAN SUPPLY CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

That Sunday drive in the country is a good time to collect cones and boughs for Christmas decorations, says N. C. Anderson, County Agent.

Pine cones, pine or fir branches, and other woodsy materials are easily brightened with white or metallic colors. Combined with wire and ribbon in a variety of arrangements, they will add a festive touch to any home.

Gold, silver, aluminum or white kalsomine paint can be applied with a paintbrush. The cones may be covered completely, or the edges just highlighted for a different effect.

To add a snowy sparkle, first give the branches a coat of shellac. While still wet, dip them in the artificial glitter. Shake off extra tinsel and allow the rest to
