News from C. A. Office

Figures on Bangs disease testing for Morrow County during the month of January, 1951 show that six herds totaling 447 cattle were tested with only one animal showing as a reactor. This compares to 13 herds totaling 408 cattle tested in January 1950. There was but one reactor a year ago too. Ranchers who have not tested their cattle recently may have them tested by calling Dr. G. W. Blake, Veterinarian, Pendleton, or by leaving their request at the county agents office. With Morrow County having a Bangs Testing Law, all cattle are required to be tested until found free of the disease. Enforcement of this law is being urged by the Morrow County Livestock Growers Association.

Much interest is again being shown by Morrow County farmers in establishing improved pastures.

All bids must be in the possession of the City Recorder not later than 7:30 P. M., March 5th, 1951, at which time all bids will be opened and considered by the Council.

The Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Dated this 8th day of February 1951.

ELIZABETH DIX, City Recorder. 47-48

ture and hay mixtures of grasses and legumes. All but a very small percentage of our farmers are now using grass and alfalfa mixtures for hay seedings. The grasses, Generally Manchac Smooth Brome or Orchard grass is seeded in alfalfa; however, many are now using the new and promising Intermediate Wheatgrass. Grass seeded with alfalfa tends to provide a more balanced palatable hay and holds out undesirable grasses such as cheat, doing away with springtoothing to eradicate these grasses. This results in considerable longer life of the hay seedings as many plants are destroyed and diseases quickly spread thru annual cultivation. The new promise for both pasture and hay seedings mixtures, Intermediate Wheatgrass, is gaining popularity rapidly in Morrow County. With seed selling at a high premium and hard to get, Morrow County farmers, Ralph Beamer, Heppner, Terrel Benge, Ione, Elmer Palmer, Heppner and Bill Forthman, Boardman, have secured seed through the county agent for spring seeding. Seeded in 1950, Gene Cutsforth, Lexington, John Hanna, Heppner, and Ralph Taylor, Cecil, are raising Intermediate Wheatgrass in cultivated rows for seed production.

Intermediate Wheatgrass is easier established than many grasses as it emerges under suitable conditions as a vigorous seedling and gives a dense leafy ground cover the first year. It requires a rainfall of approximately 15 inches. The grass reaches the hay stage at least two weeks later than alfalfa which makes for a better quality mixed hay. It begins growth in early spring and is ready to graze—4 to 6 inches—about the same time as alfalfa or crested wheatgrass. It makes good growth in early fall. This grass, when seed is available, promises to replace most of the smooth brome as a mixture in alfalfa for hay or for pasture. Alta Fescue, Meadow Foxtail, Orchard Grass, Manchac Smooth Brome and Intermediate Wheatgrass are some of the grasses being chosen to seed with a legume such as Ladino or Strawberry clover or alfalfa, depending on conditions prevailing.

Perhaps the largest irrigation pasture seeding to be made this spring is that of Joe Crouch of Boardman. He is seeding 150 acres to a mixture of orchard grass, alta fescue and ladino clover. Four pounds of orchard grass, six pounds of alta fescue and two pounds Ladino per acre is being seeded. The first Morrow County seeding of the broadleaf strain of Lotus Corniculatus is being seeded soon by Clyde Robinson of Boardman.

SOLONS GET INTO STRIDE

It took 30 days to evaluate major problems, clear away bickering and jockeying by a few log-rolling members and to screen pressure group lobbyists before the present legislature could operate smoothly.

If people who are careless in criticizing the apparent slowness of the legislature could observe committee room and planning huddles, they would pull their punches.

These legislators are just willing intermediates for and of the people. Don't sell them short on hearsay.

NEW BILLS

Sen. Thos. R. Mahoney would require the approval of certain appointments of the governor by the legislature. The governor's appointments of members of the highway commission and liquor commission would have to be approved by the senate and the house. His appointments of members of the board of higher education, the Port of Portland and the health department would require the approval of the senate. Approvals would require a two-thirds vote of the senate during sessions, or a majority of a special six man senate committee between sessions.

A new measure would reduce the interest on small loans from 3 to 2 per cent a month.

Creation of a centralized bureau of crime investigation that would require city, county and state police to furnish it with information for its fingerprint and investigation files, and in turn the bureau would furnish technical services to the local law enforcement officers was incorporated in a bill introduced Friday.

Not only students in college but grade and high school students will be taught the effects of alcohol if two bills introduced this week become law.

Senator Fred Lampert, Salem, has introduced a bill to set aside $15,000 of state funds for improvement of the Pioneer Mother
