HEPPNER BRANCH FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND

"I'd Like to Know . . ."

You may have heard that a suit has been filed by the Antitrust Division in Washington to break up Standard of California as well as six other West Coast oil companies. Many people have written us protesting this action, have asked pertinent questions. We believe these questions should be answered for everyone. We take this way of doing so. If you have a question, write: "I'D LIKE TO KNOW" 225 Bush Street, San Francisco 20

"Would breaking up big oil companies affect national defense?"

Mrs. Marie-Louise Auer, Pasadena housewife, writes: It seems to me like a bad time to be tampering with our industries, as the antitrust lawyers want to do. Or does it matter? Would breaking up big oil companies affect national defense?

Here at Standard, one of the seven Western oil companies under attack, we see clear public benefit in having big companies in the business at all times. We believe we serve you well. But let's consider now just "bigness" and defense:

Today, military needs come first. Just recently, need for aviation gasoline jumped 275% in the West alone. Big oil companies supplied it.

Next: industry's demands. You know how industrial output keyed U.S. strength in World War II. It takes big companies to meet big needs.

Company bigness also means big-scale research, improved products. Example: oils developed by Standard which tripled range of U.S. subs.

For hard jobs, the U.S. uses our bigness and integration. Today, our U.S. projects include atomic research and a synthetic rubber plant.

Our taxes also aid defense. As one big company, we paid over $95,000,000 last year, more than we would pay as several smaller companies.

Meanwhile, bigness and integration enable us to keep on supplying products you need. Isn't this what you want from your oil company?
