

Lexington Notes . . .

The high school is working on their parts for the speech festival to be held later in the month. One is a comedy, "I'm a Fool" with the following cast: David Buchanan, John Edwards, Alene Shannon, Sally Harrah, Pat Majeski, Dorothy Loury, Asa Way and Earl Miller. The other is a drama, "The Door" with the following cast, Alene Shannon, Betty Vann and David Buchanan. Others in the speech festival are Darolene Balsler, after dinner speech; Betty Messenger humorous; Shirley Hunt, poetry reading; Beverly Nolan, extemporaneous; John Edwards and Pat Majeski panel discussion and Earl Miller, 1000 word oration. The girls sextet are practicing on a number to be sung at the county council next week.

Mrs. Mark Rands was a Portland visitor last week-end to visit her son who has the mumps. Dates to remember: Smorgasbord March 10 and grange meeting March 9; county council of P.-T.A. March 14.

Robert Walker is another Hepner business man who is taking his turn with the flu.

Frank Rumble expects to leave this evening for Helena, Mont., where he now makes his home.

He arrived in Hepner Saturday evening and has been enjoying meeting and visiting with his friends hereabouts. A visit here about every six months will serve to keep him in touch with affairs and not lose sight of too many of his acquaintances he thinks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parrish and son Jack left Wednesday for Portland to spend a day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parrish while enroute to Fort Lawton, Wash., where Jack is due to report Friday. Jack expects to be on his way overseas in the direction of Korea within a short time.
