YOUR DRUGGIST is a member of a proud profession

Your druggist is a college-trained pharmacist . . . he knows the efficacy and the chemistry of hundreds of different drugs.

He is not a doctor . . . he cannot prescribe for a particular condition . . . that is the province of a medical man . . . your physician.

As a member of the health profession, however, it is up to him to be your doctor's "right arm" in that he is entrusted with the work of filling your doctor's prescription to the letter.

When you need medical advice . . . please see your physician . . . it is his job to prescribe for you . . . and ours to fill his prescription, accurately and promptly.

HOMEMAKER'S GUIDE TO BEEF CUTS

PRIMAL (WHOLESALE) BEEF CUTS AND THE RETAIL CUTS MADE FROM EACH

Mrs. America, This chart shows you by name and shape each of the standard cuts of beef made to be sold at retail from the wholesale cuts in the center of the chart. Each of these beef cuts is subject to dollar-and-cents price ceilings at your retail meat shop. Your retailer has been provided with the dollar-and-cents ceiling prices for the pricing zone in which you live. You can ask to see these prices. Effective July 18, ceiling prices must be posted by your butcher. Lower beef prices will be effective on August 1 and another reduction will be effective on October 1.

SURVEYING FOR TAFT

The first scouts of the 1952 presidential campaign to reach Oregon were in Salem last Friday. "To see how the land lays," David S. Ingalls, cousin of Senator Robert A. Taft, and Ben Tate the Ohio senator's friend and advisor invited a score of Willamette valley newsmen to lunch and to discuss the popularity of Taft—"just in case he should run." "Bob is undecided," said Tate. "That's why we're here. We want to get the feel of the grassroots." "What this country needs in the presidency is some man who will stand foursquare for the principles of American government, whether that man is Senator Taft or someone else," Ingalls said. In a private interview Tate called attention to Senator Taft's winning campaign in 1950 when he carried the state by a heavy majority even in the industrial counties where the labor vote is heaviest. "We observe voters are pulling away from the showboat type of candidate in recent elections. That pleases us. Bob is factual and direct," Ingalls added.

Salem and Portland were the only Oregon cities the travelers were scheduled to visit in their nation-wide survey trip. Charles P. Taft, a younger brother of Senator Taft and son of William Howard Taft, president of the United States 1909-1913, will be in Oregon June 10 to address candidates for baccalaureate and graduate degrees at the University of Oregon. Ingalls revealed. The title of his speech will be "The Rock of Our Salvation."

WEAPONS IN CELLS

Prison guards and 20 state policemen pulled a surprise raid and search Thursday on the 1,562 inmates of the Oregon state penitentiary after a tip-off that an attempt to smuggle arms into the institution was planned. The shakedown that began at 5 a. m. netted dozens of prison-made knives of various sizes, blackjacks and slip-knives. Thursday night 300 trustees on outside jobs went on a hunger strike, refused to eat the evening meal and some refused to work. Friday morning the men refused to budge from their cells for breakfast or dinner. Friday afternoon, Prison Warden George Alexander went on a strike of his own, by announcing no meals would be prepared, a new inmate committee held a meeting with Alexander after which the convicts filed into the mess hall for an evening meal without disturbance.

NEW STATE DEPARTMENT

Harry S. Dorman, who has served the state as budget director for the past 28 months, was appointed state director of finance by the governor last Friday. He will take over his new office August 1. The law creating the new department becomes effective on that date. The department of finance will take over the printing department, purchasing department and restoration functions formerly administered by the state board of control, the budget department, part of the accounting and property management departments, and will set up state automobile pools where feasible.

Dorman left Wednesday for Minnesota to study the workings of the financial department of that state, which has been in operation for several years. He will also study the California and New York state departments of finance.

La Verne J. Young is scheduled for appointment as budget director in the department of finance. Dorman's salary will be $9,600 a year; Young's $7,920.

BUSSES, TRUCK PAY MORE

Fees collected by the state for operation of commercial vehicles over Oregon highways for the first five months of this year amounted to $2,466,152, an all-time high for the period.

Collections for last month were $548,415, an increase of more than 25 per cent over May of 1950.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION MOVES

If you have occasion to visit the state highway commission in Salem and should ask how to get there, you no longer will be told to "go to the pen and turn right." This week the commission started on a four-week job of moving into its new building located in the capitol group.

ATTEND COMMENCEMENT AT WASHINGTON STATE

Mr. and Mrs. Whitmer Wright were in Pullman, Wash. over the week-end to attend the 55th annual commencement exercises of Washington State college at which time more than 1200 students received their degrees. Although the Wright's son Jim had completed his academic courses earlier this year, he returned to the college to participate in the June 3 exercises and to receive at that time his Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture.

Also among the graduates was Jim's fiancée, Miss Eileen Whall of Kent, Wash. Miss Whall has visited in Heppner a number of times. Their marriage will take place June 16 at Kent.
