WORDS OF APPRECIATION

To the kind hearts and gentle people of Heppner and vicinity: I wish to take this opportunity of conveying my appreciation for the hospitality and kindnesses shown me during my two years of residence among you. I have walked, talked and cried with you until you have grown very close to me sentimentally, but economic conditions seem to dictate a change of residence. Unlike the old soldier, I do not intend to just "fade away" but going back to historical passages, (with apologies) "I shall return" not so triumphant as the historian in mind, but I do hope to return on occasions. In the meantime, the old latch string will always be out at my Portland address which is 1930 N. E. Fremont St. at the present time.

Very Sincerely
Pearl Lavere Carter

VALBY PICNIC SUNDAY

The 23rd annual picnic of the Valby Lutheran Sunday school will open at 10 a. m. Sunday, July 1 at the Wightman ranch in the Blue mountains. There will be potluck dinner at noon, augmented by generous helpings of ice cream. A baseball game will provide entertainment at 1 p. m. The invitation is open to the public to come and spend the day in the good old shade, says Leonard Carlson, "mayor" of Gooseberry.

Mrs. Anne Smouse had as her dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips of Portland, Kenneth Smouse and children and Mrs. Forbes of Ione. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Troedson and Miss Opal Briggs.

At the head of beautiful Wallowa Lake (pictured above) and with white-capped Mt. Bonneville towering above it, Wallowa Lake State Park, one of Oregon's newest, most modern, and most beautiful state parks is located. July 4th has been set as the date for the dedication of this area of mountain wonderland, and Marshall Dana, former editor of the Oregon Journal has been chosen to give the dedication address. Established in 1947, Wallowa Lake State Park has ample camping facilities to care for those who come to the lake to enjoy it's fishing, boating and swimming and the riding and hiking that the surrounding mountains afford. The entire Northwest is invited to join the people of Wallowa County in the dedication ceremonies on the 4th of July and to spend the day relaxing in the Wallowa Wonderland.
