

July 4th Parade Winners At Ione Are Named

The Fourth of July celebration here, which was sponsored by the American Legion Post 95, proved to be a great success and was enjoyed by a large crowd. It started with a colorful parade at 10 A.M. led by Lee Beckner and members of the post including the color guard and rifle squad, followed by the school band in their new red and white uniforms, Ingrid Hermann, queen of the Heppner Rodeo and her court, floats of different business houses and organizations, horse back riders, children on ponies, bicycles and tricycles. The floats winning prizes were 1st prize the Ione Garden Club which represented Mistress Mary with 8 little girls dressed in pastel colors; 2nd prize the field. At noon a pot luck dinner was served. Two ball games were held in the afternoon between Ione and Heppner. The Auxiliary sponsored a bingo game. In the evening were a movie, fire works and dancing in the Legion hall with Rod Essletine of Pendleton furnishing the music. The Martin Bauernfeinds of Morgan provided rides on their Shetland ponies for the kiddies. The Legion boys and the Rebekahs served lunch during the day and evening. Clifford Aldrich was the announcer for the day. A truck belonging to Van Hubbard was destroyed by fire Saturday evening about 9:30 p.m. in his wheat field about ten miles north of here David and Clarence Baker spotted the fire from their plane as they flew over they landed and moved the combine, tractor and trap wagon. After finding they needed help to put out the fire, David flew to his home and called the fire truck in Ione which was immediately driven out by Roy Lindstrom. In the meantime, Clarence had kept the fire down by throwing dirt on it with his hands. Some wheat on the truck was burned. Mr. Hubbard had been harvesting and had left the field.
