

Morgan Man Injured In Fall at Elevator

By Echo Palmateer

Carl Linn, manager of the Griffith elevator at Morgan, received a compound fracture of his left arm when he fell to the bottom on an empty grain bin 32 feet deep Sunday morning. He was working on the machinery when he fell. He got out a door in the bottom. George Griffith took him to the Pioneer Memorial hospital in Heppner. A specialist was called from Walla Walla who came by plane to operate on his arm. He is reported to be getting along satisfactorily.

Word was received of the death of Mrs. Nettie Hovde by a heart attack of Portland Saturday July 21. She was the former Nettie Mason and was born in Rhea creek December 14, 1894 to Joseph and Augusta Mason and lived there several years and managed the farm after her father's death. Funeral services will be July 25 at the Chapel of the Chimes in Portland. She is survived by her husband Jos. I. Hovde, four sisters, Mrs. Ella Caples of Portland, Mrs. Helena Buschke of Morgan; Mrs. Clara Kincaid and Mrs. Mabel Cotter of Ione and 4 brothers, Bert Mason of Oak Grove; Jesse of The Dalles; Joe of Prineville and Harold of Pleasant Dale, California. Those who will attend the funeral from here are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Buschke and son Louis and Henry and his family.

Army Nurses Urgently Needed

There is a critical need for more Army nurses both at overseas stations and at military posts in this country. Pictured above is a scene showing one of the many varied duties of an Army nurse. The captain is explaining the correct technique for taking blood pressure to a group of medical technicians. Registered nurses can apply at any U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station for particulars about this interesting career of service to America's soldiers.

don White, also, visited in Forest Grove and attended an art show in Portland. Mrs. T. N. White went on a fishing trip with her son Wayne and family at Ollalla Lake.

Mrs. Vester Nelson and son Pvt. J. D. Stevens of Omak, Washington are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Crowell at Morgan.

Mrs. Clarence Kruse and daughter, Karen of Oswego were recent visitors at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lana Padberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Burke and son, Dick; and Jimmy Jewell, of Oakland, California stopped at the O. L. Lundell home over the week-end. They are on their way to Spokane where the men play in an orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Helena and two sons of Seattle are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lindstrom.

The Ione softball team beat the Elks team from Heppner here Sunday and the Elks won from

"Don't you big oil companies get together to set prices?"

The question of gasoline price affects every motorist: Standard Oil Company of California receives some letters along these lines: "When I drive downtown, the prices of all the major gasolines seem to be about the same. I've heard it said that the major oil companies get together to set prices. Isn't this true?"

The answer is an unqualified NO. Oil companies do not get together to set prices, nor do we in any way set prices by agreement. But we do think it's in order to tell you about gasoline prices and how they're arrived at:

When you shop you find not only gas but many products of the same kind and about the same quality priced about alike. Prices just naturally tend to even up. Here's why—

Suppose a gas dealer were forced to sell at 2c a gallon more than his neighbors. Business would soon pass him by. Or suppose he had to sell for 2c a gallon less, still giving full quality and service. As his competitors cut price to hold customers, his income falls. In time he would go broke.

These imaginary examples of set-price policy show what any gas seller is actually up against. He must sell for enough to cover his costs and make a living, yet if he charges too much he'll drive business away. It's as simple as that.

We "set prices" only at stations we own and operate—Standard Stations, Inc. Experience shows what to charge to cover cost of product and service, yet sell in competition.

At Chevron Gas Stations the operators are completely independent. They make up their own minds about price. You occasionally see a range of gasoline prices for the same or different brands in a single area, until competition finally forces the prices of similar products and services back to a common level.

The result: better products at low cost, the benefit you always get when free competition is allowed to work. Note this: aside from taxes, and in spite of inflation, gasoline today costs about what it did in 1919, yet two gallons now do the work that required three then.

I'd Like to Know... Many people write to Standard asking pertinent questions about the Company. We answer all letters individually, but some points seem of general interest. We take this way of discussing them for everyone. If you have a question, we urge you to write in care of: "I'D LIKE TO KNOW," 225 Bush Street, San Francisco 20, California.
