HOW TO BREW A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE... FOR THE CROWD
by Frances Barton

1 THE WAYS OF PREPARING COFFEE (REGULAR OR CAFFEIN-FREE) ARE LEGION... AND AS INDIVIDUAL AS YOUR SIGNATURE. SOME WOMEN THROW EGG SHELLS INTO THE POT BELIEVING IT IMPROVES THE FLAVOR.

2 EXPERIMENTATION CAN LOSE FRIENDS. TAKE THE MATTER OF FINING COFFEE FOR TWENTY OR MORE PEOPLE. IT CAN BE A SCREAMING MEEEMIES SESSION WITH THE KITCHEN IN A SHAMBLES...

3 IT CAN BE AN EASY, PLEASANT CHORE MADE OBVIOUS TO YOUR GUESTS ONLY BY THE MATCHLESS AROMA OF DELICIOUS COFFEE. SAVE THAT INDIVIDUAL FLAIR FOR HATS--HEED THE VOICE OF COFFEE AUTHORITY AND TRY THIS RECIPE FOR CAFFEIN-FREE COFFEE GUARANTEED TO KEEP 40 OR 50 PEOPLE HAPPY NO MATTER WHAT THEIR AGE, HEALTH OR LIQUID REFRESHMENT PREFERENCE.

4 PUT ONE POUND OF CAFFEIN-FREE OR ORDINARY COFFEE (REGULAR GRIND) IN A MUSLIN OR CHEESECLOTH BAG LARGE ENOUGH TO HOLD AT LEAST TWICE THAT AMOUNT. DROP BAG INTO A LARGE KETTLE CONTAINING 2 TO 2 1/2 GALLONS OF BOILING WATER. COVER TIGHTLY, REDUCE HEAT TO PREVENT BOILING, AND LET STAND 10 TO 12 MIN. PLUNGE BAG UP AND DOWN IN THE COFFEE SEVERAL TIMES; THEN REMOVE BAG FROM KETTLE.

5 KEEP COFFEE HOT FOR SERVICE, BUT DO NOT ALLOW IT TO BOIL. MAKES 40 TO 50 SERVINGS.

Housefly Getting Tough, New Ideas Needed to Kill Him

Bzz-z-zing. Swat. That's fly control reduced to its simplest deadly best. But there's too many flies and not enough fly swatters so other control methods must be used.

What? You've heard this: "Chemicals like DDT don't work on flies any more. The pesky things swallow it by the gallon. It doesn't faze 'em."

It's true, says Bob Every of Oregon State College, that the common housefly--some of them, at least--can be doused with DDT and they come back strong and sticky. The entomologist says experiment station workers at the College, for example, have collected more than 50 species of flies in the dairy barn. Although the housefly is the most common, it is the only one known to be resistant to DDT. Some of them are not.

So, says Every, DDT is still recommended for housefly control and in many cases is still giving satisfactory control. DDT is not recommended for use in dairy barns or on dairy cattle. Methoxychlor is the chemical to use. Sixteen pounds of 50 percent wettable methoxychlor in 100 gallons of water is doing a job for many dairymen.

Inside dairy barns where a residual flyspray is wanted, lindane is recommended. It's more expensive than methoxychlor and at high concentrations can be dangerous to dairy stock. Don't spray them with it at residual spray concentrations.

A two percent chlordane spray is suggested for outside surfaces where other materials are not giving good control. Indoors, pyrethrum sprays give good, immediate results, but they do not have a long-time lasting effect.

Aerosol bombs are handy supplementary fly control equipment in the home. The escaping cloud will kill only the flies and mosquitoes present at the time of application, and it has no residual effect.

As a final tip, Every says the best fly control is still prevention: eliminate breeding places.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

What's So Funny?

Just finished reading a magazine article that "proves" you and I don't know what's funny.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter--and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny.

Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him--doesn't it?

From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself--but I promise not to make any "wise-cracks" if you prefer tea.
