We wonder how it happens so many east Oregonians forget the sun can shine, and burn, at the coast. Latest victim was Ed Dick who returned from Manzanita Sunday with two beautifully pink legs. Understand a local MD was called to examine and we wonder if he prescribed some kind of Standard cup grease as a cure.

"Cowboy" Ed Gonty is eating with his left hand since Sunday night when he learned that a horse has ways of getting rid of a rider. He wound up with a cast on his right arm. Also noticed he limped a little... wonder if his shoe doesn't fit?
