Local Help Asked In International Farm Youth Plan

How would you like to be a "grassroots diplomat"? Some farm family in Morrow County may help show a foreign country the American way of life by playing host to a young European this fall.

County Agent N. C. Anderson announces that two delegates in the International Farm Youth Exchange program are coming to Oregon in September, and "Host" families are being sought. The visitors are Fredrick Werren, 25, of Switzerland, who will arrive September 7, and Miss Ita Posch, 23, of the Netherlands, arriving September 27. Each will spend about three months in the state.

Miss Posch would like to live on a dairy farm. Her father, who is mayor of their village, operates a 65-acre dairy farm. She has had 2 years of home economics training, speaks English, and has spent a year in England. She enjoys folk dancing and sports and plays the piano and accordion. She arrived in this country in July and has spent the last two months in West Virginia.

Fredrick Werren also speaks English. He was graduated from the Agricultural Polytech Institute of Zurich, and has no preference about what type farm he visits. He has been on a Nebraska farm since June.

This is a two-way program. Glenn Klein, of Marion County, sailed recently for New Zealand as an IFYE delegate. A second Oregon delegate will soon be chosen to visit another country.

The aim of the Exchange, now in its fourth year, is to promote better understanding between rural people of this and other lands. Each delegate works and (Continued on page 6) their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral offerings were especially appreciated.
