weather, and mountain and water scenery not to be excelled anywhere.

However, a regatta at Garden Bay called us back there on Saturday. In the swim meet Jim entered the diving contest, and won first prize, a silver cup, becoming the first contestant from the States to win in any of their competition at this annual event. At 6 p.m. we decided to cross the Straits toward home, hoping for calm evening weather. It was by far our most exciting trip, being extremely rough, and becoming dark before we got to Nanaimo, which was the most welcome haven we all have ever known. The last two hours of the trip, in complete darkness was on instruments, which Mate Smith charted correctly, and regained first mate rating. After clearing customs next morning, and getting supplies we headed for Friday Harbor on San Juan Island, which is the clearing for boats in the United States.

This concluded our delightful cruise and holiday in Canadian waters.

Heppner Residents Report On Canadian Cruise

(The Gazette Times this week received on account of a recent cruise taken by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Smith of Heppner into Canadian waters. The log was kept by June Smith, who sent the following report:)

For the benefit of landlubbers in or near Heppner, we present a brief account of our cruise in Canadian waters, August 13 to August 19. We lifted the anchor of our ship, the "Jennie Lynn" Monday morning, with Orville Smith as Captain, Jim Smith, first mate, Marion Green, Chief Engineer, and June Smith, Galley Slave. Jim Smith was demoted to Second Mate first day out for getting off course.

The trip to Nanaimo, B. C. was smooth in fair weather and took 5 1/4 hours. We had dinner ashore in style at the Tideview, the town's best. Nanaimo is a pretty little harbor town with hanging flower baskets in the light poles and six beautiful Princess ships arriving daily from Vancouver, B. C.

Next morning we pushed off at 5:45 to cross the treacherous waters of the Georgia Straits. After a rough 5 hrs., with dishes flying we arrived at a store & warf called Egmont. There we took on gas, water and groceries, and rode the Seehedt Rapids a bit before the slack tide, resulting in several more broken dishes aboard. After a delightful ride through lovely scenery in fine weather, we arrived at our destination, the end of Salmon Arm, with nothing but fishing on our minds. The male population immediately left for this pursuit, and returned to the "Jennie Lynn" at 9 p.m. with a basket full of trout, which soon became our dinner. Early next morning the four of us took two small boats to the lakes and spent the entire day fly fishing and trolling, bringing back plenty more of the rainbow and cut-throat trout for our dinner and ice box.

Leaving Salmon Arm the next morning at 11:25, we made the Seehedt Rapids just at slack, and cruised on to Pender Harbour which is one of the most popular boating centers of the coast. Here we took on more gas, oil and ice, and spent the night anchored in beautiful Garden Bay. Each stop included a swim for the crew in the suprisingly warm salt water. Having been to Princess Louisa
