Be careful—the child you save may be your own!

CULTIVATOR

Greater crop yields... extra profits... a larger harvest check—that's what you can expect when you break up shallow hardpan with a John Deere-Killefer Chisel Cultivator.

Working as deep as 15 inches, the sturdy John Deere-Killefer shatters the hardpan, permitting roots to get down deep below the seedbed to draw upon valuable plant foods and surplus water when needed most.

The John Deere-Killefer is available in the

Both are sturdily constructed... have plenty of clearance for doing excellent work in trashy field conditions... are available with mechanical lift or for use with hydraulic power through the remote cylinder.
